Mrs. Archie Wilson Installed President of Arcadia Womans Club at Annual Installation Tea

Mrs. Archie L. Wilson, president of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, and her corps of officers were installed last Wednesday at a lovely ceremony held during the annual membership tea in the beautifully decorated clubhouse. Mrs. Dwight Young, president of the Verdugo district, CFWC, installing officer, used a candle theme for the ceremony.

Mrs. Archie Slover, gowned in a white formal, escorted each officer as she lighted her candle from the taper burning at Mrs. Young's desk. The officers, all of whom were gowned in pastel formals, included Mrs. Wilson, president; Mrs. William Adams, first vice-president; Mrs. L. A. Rice, second vice-president; Mrs. J. C. Merrill, recording secretary; Mrs. T. B. Kemp, corresponding secretary (she was unable to be present and Mrs. Wayne Jones was her proxy); Mrs. A. W. Langlois, federation secretary; Mrs. L. W. Ross, treasurer; Mrs. John Richardson, senior trustee; Mrs. John Skinner, junior trustee; Mrs. N. E. Stadig, ways and means, and Mrs. Harvey Thombs, program chairman.

Thanks

Mrs. Young explained her duties to each new officer and at the close Mrs. Wilson, the new president, who was gowned in a beautiful rose gray lace and chiffon formal and a lovely corsage, the gift of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Weems, thanked Mrs. Young. The pastel gladioli corsages worn by the officers were made by Mrs. Edward J. Verhoef.

Mrs. Daniel J. Slattery, retiring president, presided at a short business meeting calling on chairmen to give their reports: Mrs. Harvey Thombs, ways and means; Mrs. Clark Bridgman, music; Mrs. John Richardson, junior trustee; Mrs. E. J. Verhoef, garden; Mrs. Leonard Ross, treasurer, and Mrs. Wilson all were commended for their fine work.

Mrs. Albert Weickert, historian, gave a detailed report of the club year.

Mrs. Slattery thanked the club and her officers for the fine cooperation given to her during her term which helped to make it a happy year, and Mrs. Elmer Godfrey presented Mrs. Slattery with the press and clipping book for the year.

Tea

Tea was served from a beautifully appointed table which was centered with a silver bowl of pink carnations, white gladioli and ferns flanked with silver candelabra.

Pouring at the two silver services were Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Slattery, who was in rose net and satin.

Mrs. Andrew C. Heilman, chairman of the tea, was assisted by Mmes. Ralph George, L. R. Short, Leonard C. Brooks, Malcolm Cocke, Harold J. Bair, Harvey R. Snyder, John P. Ross, D. Bishop, Ariel Moegee and Robert W. Jones.

New Officers Elected by Woman's Club of Arcadia, Installation To Be in June

Woman's Club of Arcadia celebrated its annual Reciprocity day, elected new officers, named convention delegates, and heard a fine program presented by the Literature department, at last week's regular luncheon. Mrs. Earl Dettra, president, welcomed the following district officers: Mrs. George Cornelius, Mrs. F. W. Spencer, Mrs. W. G. Wenzlaff, Mrs. Archie High, and Mrs. Eugene Nott of the district Juniors. Fourteen presidents of other clubs were welcomed as well as representatives of others.

The following officers were elected: Mmes. Daniel Slattery, president; Archie L. Wilson, first vice-president; L. A. Rice, second vice-president; William Adams, recording secretary; Mrs. A. P. Stuhman, corresponding secretary; Malcolm Cocke, federal extension secretary; Leonard Ross, treasurer; Harvey Thombs, ways and means; N. E. Stadig, program chairman; Verne Winchell, senior trustee; and John Richardson, junior trustee.

New officers will be installed on June 1 at an afternoon tea at the clubhouse.

Special Honors

Mrs. Dettra announced that Mrs. McAbery had brought special honors to the club with her election as district director-at-large. Mrs. McAbery has served twice as president of the club. Delegates named to attend the state convention, May 15 to 18, at Coronado were: Mmes. Earl Dettra, Archie Wilson, Daniel Slattery, Bruce McAbery, Thomas Kemp, Harvey Thombs and Leonard Ross.

The luncheon tables were attractively decorated with colorful miniature Maypoles and tiny dolls, that had been made for the occasion by Camp Fire Girls. Members decorating for the girls were Mmes. Homer Brown, chairman, L. K. Campbell, Freeman Gates, Charles Johnson, William Adams, E. J. Fuerst, William Winchester and S. J. Wightman.

New Members

New members welcomed were Mmes. John Doyle, Phil Hoering, Guy Immel and Clary Morgan. Mrs. Slattery gave the devotionals and Mrs. Herman Kambietz led in the pledge of allegiance, while Mrs. Thombs led in the singing of the Star Spangled Banner with Mrs. Archie Slover at the piano.

Mrs. Lyman Vollintine introduced the afternoon speaker, Dr. Fred Judson, who was an inspiring and amusing speaker.

GALA FASHION SHOW-TEA OPENS FALL SEASON FOR WOMAN'S CLUB OF ARCADIA

The fashion show-tea given by the Woman's Club of Arcadia on Aug. 25 at the Norman Chandler estate in Arcadia was a delightful and successful affair. It was the first ways and means project of the year and was under the direction of Mrs. Harvey Thombs, ways and means chairman, and her co-chairman, Mrs. Archie Slover. Small tables under colored umbrellas were placed around the swimming pool and on the lawn beneath the trees, and 500 women watched with interest the parade of beautiful new fashions for fall and early winter. Cheron's of San Marino presented the fashion parade and Mrs. Claire Haynes of Cheron's was commentator.

Before the event got underway,

Mrs. Daniel Slattery, club president, told the group that it was a pleasure to welcome each one to the club's fall fashion show. She thanked the El Rancho Market for refreshments for the tea, Mel Pratt of Arcadia Music Mart for the loan of an organ, and the Fuller Brush company for favors.

Arcadia Woman's Club To Open Year Wednesday

The Daniel J. Slattery, president of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, will welcome members and guests Wednesday at the 11:30 a.m. luncheon meeting of the club. She will introduce the head table with her. These were Mmes. Archie Wilson, L. A. Rice, William Adams, A. P. Stuhman, Malcolm Cocke, Leonard W. Ross, Verne H. Winenell Jr., John Richardson, Harvey Thombs, N. E. Stadig and Joe Watson. Also Mrs. Bruce McAbery, who serves as district director at large, and Mrs. Bert Schaar, president of the Arcadia Junior Woman's club.

The clubhouse was beautifully decorated and luncheon tables were marked with ivy and hibiscus, while the head table was decorated with white stocks and red roses. Mrs. Paul Beuscher was chairman of decorations. The president's black suit was accented by a purple orchid, a gift of her board.

Mrs. David Shrader and her committee prepared and served the luncheon. The first meeting of each month the luncheon will be prepared by a committee of members; the other luncheons will be catered.

Mrs. Ross gave the treasurer's report for the summer. Mrs. Thombs reported on the successful fashion show and Mrs. McAbery announced the district Halloween fashion luncheon at the Huntington-Sheraton at noon on Oct. 31.

A small district convention will be held in South Pasadena on Nov. 16 and the following delegates were named: Mmes. Wilson, who will go in place of the president, William Adams, J. M. Weems, Charles W. Stewart, Earl H. Dettra, John C. Merrill, Kenneth Leslie and A. L. Weickert.

An outstanding program was presented in the afternoon by the "Song Brokers," which was introduced by Mrs. M. E. Stadig. The artists were John Moss, bass, a graduate of the Royal Academy of Music in England, Arthur McCullen, baritone, soloist First Methodist church in Los Angeles, Arthur Bradley, tenor, soloist First Methodist church in Long Beach, and the accompanist, Clarence Badger, who has appeared in many television shows.

The "Song Brokers," a male quartet, will be introduced by Mrs. N. E. Stadig, program chairman, following the luncheon intermission. This group has been in existence since 1940 and the exception of the war years when the men served with their country.

Entertaining
The "Song Brokers'" purpose is to educate but to entertain. Their arrangements bring a response to old favorites. Blend, pitch and precision of their work delight the serious musicians and laymen. They appeared in Warner Brothers' "Meetings" starring Errol Flynn. They have been on many radio and television shows, and each is a celebrity in his own right.

Annual 'White Christmas' Ball To Be Given Dec. 10 Woman's Club Section

Highlighting the Christmas social season for the fourth year the Arcadia Woman's club's evening department's annual Christmas Ball. The gala event will be held again at the San Gabriel Valley Shrine club on Santa Anita drive in Arcadia on Friday evening, Dec. 10. The semi-formal affair will be preceded by cocktail parties held at members' homes honoring those who will later attend the dance.

Mr. Boyer and his well-known orchestra will play for the dance, which will commence at 8 p.m. and continue until 1 p.m. The proceeds from the dance will be used solely for the department's philanthropy. This year the half-orphan children of San Gabriel Valley, who for various reasons reside in foster homes, will benefit from the proceeds which will be used to provide clothing for the little girls, appropriate clothing for the boys and toys for the very little ones. The toys are being donated and stuffed by members of the club.

Revolving Fund

A balance of the money from the "White Christmas Ball" will be used to establish a revolving fund which may be used at any time during the year to provide what is requested by the board. It is the sincere hope of this group of young women that their evening section will be able to comply with any request made for these young-

Evening Group Hears Talk on Unusual Fabrics

Members of the evening department and their guests enjoyed a most informative as well as entertaining evening at their regular meeting at the clubhouse of the Arcadia Woman's club on Oct. 27. Mrs. R. A. Johnson whose hobby is the creation of fine clothing and the study of fabrics presented the delightful program.

Following an interesting dissertation of fabrics, both natural and synthetic, two lovely models displayed a number of Mrs. Johnson's exquisite creations. To complete her program, Mrs. Johnson showed a collection of beautiful felt skirt custom designed. Each skirt was gaily decorated.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Dene C. Christie, Mrs. Dent D. DeLong and Mrs. Richard D. Greyson. Refreshments were served at a beautiful table decorated to carry out an autumn theme.

Members and guests attending were Mmes. Dene C. Christie, Alan Langlois, Dent D. DeLong, Richard D. Greyson, John Lauder, Paul C. McAlfrey, Carl S. Hogulund, Richard S. Kenealy, Earl Towsley, Verne Winchell Jr., Robert A. Wagner, William Messick, Kip Neiderhaus, Jack Wagner, M. Titgemeyer, Anthony Anger, V. John Barry, L. W. Howse, H. S. Myers, James Kercheval, Albert Clement, Shirley White, Jack Moore, William W. Moore, Norva Martin, Keith Hagberg, Martha Ladonin and Doyle Lindley, who presented Mrs. Johnson to the group.

Color Film To Be Shown to Junior Club

Rare Collection

'Dolls Through the Ages' Collection To Be Exhibited Here by Literature Department of Arcadia Woman's Club

It has become the fashion to have doll exhibits, first in England, India, Canada and New York, and now, a most unusual one, "Dolls Through the Ages" exhibition, is being planned for Arcadia. It will be presented by the literature department of the Woman's Club of Arcadia on Saturday, Nov. 26, from 3 to 9 p.m. in the auditorium of the clubhouse.

It will be a wonderful exhibit, the first of its kind to be held in Arcadia. Approximately 100 dolls will be exhibited, besides the automaton, and they are all originals representing the different ages of mankind.

EXACT COPY—These dolls of Martha and George Washington, which are exact copies of two that were given to the British National Toy museum, will be on display at the "Dolls Through the Ages" exhibit at the Arcadia Woman's club on Nov. 26.

ORIGINAL DOLLS—Among being on display a small part of the world's oldest doll, that will be shown in the "Dolls Through the Ages" exhibition Nov. 26 at the Arcadia Woman's clubhouse. An ancient Egyptian doll, and among the oldest in the world will be on display, and a Chinese Egyptian doll with her coronation robe and crown, is also in the collection.

It is the collection of Marie Matheson, personal friend of Mrs. Lyman G. Vollintine, chairman of the literature department. Mrs. Matheson is vice-president of the International Doll Collectors Club, Inc., and a regular contributor to its official magazine "The Doll World." She is writing a book on the history of dolls to be published next summer and she has been invited by the English publishing company to come to London at that time.

Tell Story

Mrs. Matheson believes that dolls tell the story of mankind and that they are the ambassadors of fashion of the different ages. She has collected the old dolls, all of them patented, and has retained the original clothing where it was possible. In some instances it has been necessary to copy the original clothing due to the antiquity of the doll. Mrs. Matheson molds the heads of her new dolls and makes all of their clothing.

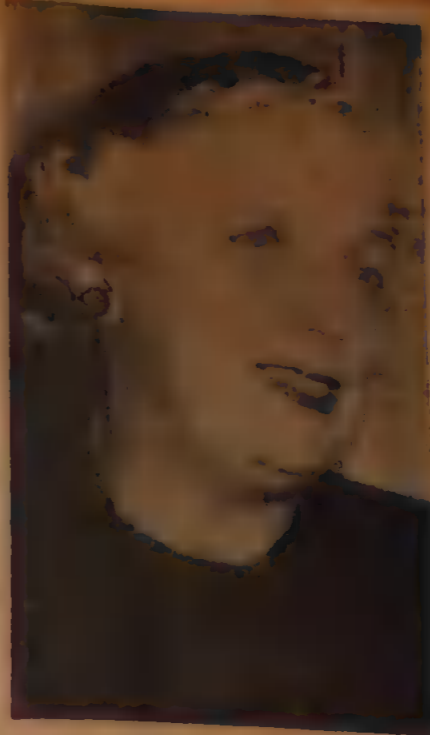

Included in this outstanding collection is an Egyptian doll, which is said to be 2000 years old and is probably the oldest doll in the world. It is believed that the doll was taken from a little Egyptian girl's tomb.

Mrs. Matheson's Queen Elizabeth II doll, which she sent to London to be in a doll exhibition sponsored by the Countess Mountbatten and Mrs. Odette Churchill, to raise money for the Greater London Fund for the Blind, will also be displayed here. She designed, molded and painted the head for this doll, as well as the crown, jewels and orb. The gown is a beautiful creation encrusted with hundreds of tiny beads and sequins interspersed with embroidery representative of the British Empire. The doll now wears a miniature Order of the Garter made by the famous Chelsea Porcelain manufacturers and presented to her at the charitable doll exhibition in London.

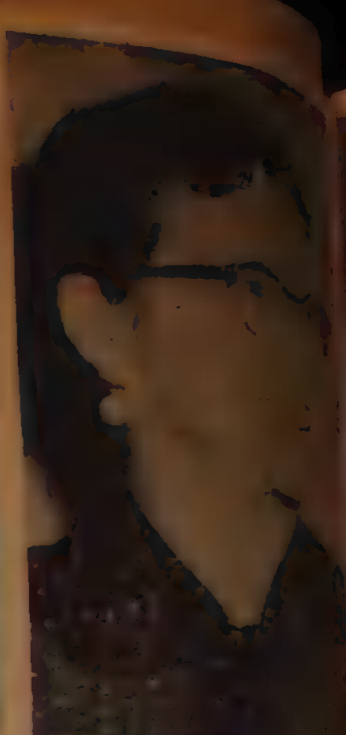

Exact Copies

Also included in the exhibit will be exact copies of George and Martha Washington dolls which were dressed by Mrs. Matheson for contribution to the British National Toy museum located in the royal borough of Kensington, which is London's museumland.

Another doll is the two-faced "crying" doll with its patent dated 1881, who also with the Egyptian doll, visited the London show. The original wooden doll made in 1813 by Joel Ellis on which Mrs. Matheson holds patent papers also a London visitor. There will be a rare doll whose head was made in 1813 with original hairdo, the remnant carved in the hair.

Famous Doll Collection To Be Shown in Arcadia by Literature Department

The "Dolls Through the Ages" collection of more than 100 original dolls will be exhibited to Arcadians on Saturday, Nov. 26, from 3 to 9 p.m. in the Arcadia Woman's club, under the auspices of the club's literature department. Mrs. Lyman G. Vollintine, chairman, and Mrs. William Adams are co-chairmen of the exhibit. The word doll probably stems from the word "dole" which was used in the English language as early as 1550. Many books have been written on the subject of dolls and they have always played their part in history and fashion.

The "Dolls Through the Ages" collection brings together one of the finest representative collections ever displayed. The dolls are from private collections and museums from all over the world.

Educational Value

It may seem strange that little girls used to play with grown-up dolls and not baby dolls, but in the days of fashion dolls were for educational value, to teach children how to dress and make clothes, not to play at being mothers.

The first dolls of 5,000 years ago were made of many materials—wood, papermache, leather, rubber, china and porcelain.

In the courts of medieval Europe dolls were used as givers of fashion in the 19th centuries they were all parts of the world used in Paris, to show the current fashions in clothes and hair.

dolls were sometimes given dramatic immunity, even in times of war.

Perfection

Dolls became more general from the 18th century onwards but it was not until the end of the 19th and throughout the 20th century that dolls reached their present perfection. It is from this period that most of the collection's dolls displayed in the exhibition were obtained. They show enormous variety in style and material.

The price is 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children. Part of the proceeds from the event will be used for the scholarship fund of the Woman's club.

The exhibition will be held in the Arcadia Woman's club, 1000 N. Main St., from 3 to 9 p.m. on Saturday, Nov. 26. Tickets are 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children. Part of the proceeds from the event will be used for the scholarship fund of the Woman's club.

Up to about a century ago most dolls were made as grown-ups, not as children, and were quite often the likeness of famous people. The reason that some of the dolls are dressed so beautifully is because that in the courts of medieval Europe dolls were used as models of fashion, and later sent from Paris to all parts of the world to show the current trend in fashion and hairdressing.

In addition to this wonderful wonderful exhibit to 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children under 15. Part of the proceeds from the event will be used for the scholarship fund of the Woman's club.

Mrs. Vollintine is being assisted by Mrs. William Adams and Mrs. Adams.

Exact Replica

Queen Elizabeth II Doll To Be Shown in Doll Exhibit at Arcadia Woman's Club

When the "Dolls Through the Ages" collection comes to Arcadia on Saturday, Nov. 26, one of the dolls will represent Queen Elizabeth II wearing her coronation gown and crown, which was exhibited in London in 1954 at a charitable doll exhibition sponsored by the Countess of Mountbatten and Mrs. Odette Churchill as a benefit for the Greater London Fund for the Blind. At that time the doll was presented with a miniature Order of the Garter made by the Chelsea porcelain manufacturers.

The unusual exhibit of 100 dolls will be brought to Arcadia under the auspices of the literature department of the Woman's Club of Arcadia and will be staged in the clubhouse auditorium, 324 South First avenue, Nov. 26 from 3 to 9 p.m.

The exhibit will be the first of its kind to be staged in Arcadia, and was made possible because Marie Matheson, owner of the fabulous collection, is a friend of Mrs. Lyman G. Vollentine, chairman of the literature department. Mrs. Lyman and Mrs. William Adams are co-chairmen of the exhibit.

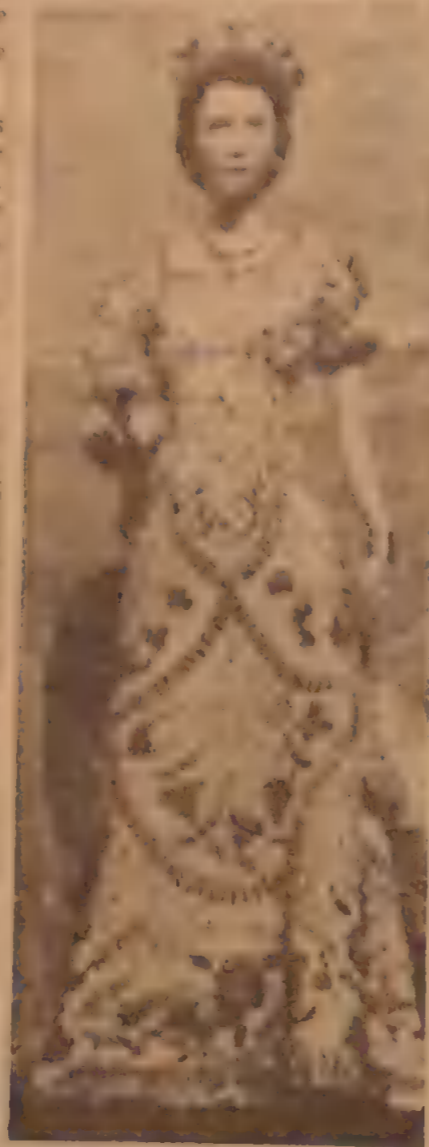

Designed

Mrs. Matheson designed, molded and painted the head of the Queen Elizabeth doll as well as the crown jewels and orb. The striking gown is a beautiful creation encrusted with hundreds of tiny beads and sequins interspersed with embroidery representative of the British Empire and was accredited by the British press as being the truest representative of the original Norman Hartnell creation in existence.

England has always been famous for its wax dolls, even as early as Queen Anne, and also for its wooden dolls with quaint blown-glass eyes. Strange as it may seem, however, china dolls were rarely made there, usually being made in Germany, which has always been one of the largest toy making countries. Dolls, however, are made in all countries, and it is difficult to ascribe to any particular country the origin of each doll, as sometimes the heads were manufactured in one country, and exported to be assembled on bodies made in the country of importation.

The doll collection to be shown in Arcadia will include many wonderful dolls, all of them originals.

Donation to the exhibit is 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children under 12. Part of the proceeds will be used for the club's scholarship fund.

EXHIBITION OF DOLLS WILL BE OPEN TO PUBLIC NOVEMBER 26th

A "Dolls Through the Ages" exhibition, sponsored by the literature department of the Arcadia Woman's Club on November 26, will offer the general public an opportunity to see one of the world's valuable doll collections. The exhibit will be shown in the Arcadia Woman's Clubhouse, 324 S. 1st Ave. from 3 to 9 p.m.

The collection is being presented by Mrs. Marie Matheson, vice president of the International Doll Collectors' Club, Inc., who is a regular contributor to its official magazine, "The Doll World."

The public is invited and only a nominal charge will be made for adults and children. Proceeds of the exhibit will be ad-located to the club's scholarship fund.

Five of the dolls, listed and described below, were all shown at the London exhibition in 1954. Of special interest will be:

An Egyptian doll which is said to be 2,000 years old and is probably the oldest in the world and said to be taken from a little Egyptian girl's tomb.

A doll representing Queen Elizabeth in her coronation robe, and who now wears a miniature Order of the Garter made by the famous Chelsea Porcelain manufacturers and presented to her when she was exhibited at the charitable doll exhibition, sponsored by the Countess of Mountbatten and Mrs. Odette Churchill in London during 1954, in aid of the Greater London Fund for the Blind, of which Her Majesty, Queen Elizabeth, The Queen Mother, was a patron.

Mrs. Matheson designed, molded and painted the head for this doll, as well as the crown jewels and orb. The gown is a beautiful creation encrusted with hundreds of tiny beads and sequins interspersed with embroidery representative of the British Empire countries, and was accredited by the British press as being the truest replica of the original Norman Hartnell creation made.

Exact copies of George and Martha Washington dolls which were dressed by Mrs. Matheson for contribution by the American doll club to the British National Toy Museum, located in the Royal Borough of Kensington, which is London's Museum Land.

The Bartenstein two-faced "crying" doll with its patent dated 1881.

The original jointed wooden doll made in 1813 by Joel Ellis on which Mrs. Matheson holds patent papers.

Other Rare Ones

Automatons with music, mechanical musical dolls, most of which have been collected in France and Germany, and are 18th century pieces, including a Singing Bird and a Chinese Shadow Theatre. There will be an operative showing of these famous mechanical pieces.

A rare doll whose head was made in 1868 with original hair; the neck has been encrusted as part of the neck. This head was made between the Victorian period and the fashion doll period.

About 100 dolls will be exhibited, and are originals representing the different ages. Where original clothing could be retained, this has been done. Although in some instances it has been necessary to copy the gown due to the deteriorated condition of the original. The little Egyptian doll has no clothing and feet.

Likenesses Shown

Up to about a century ago, most dolls were made as grown-ups, not as children, and were quite often likenesses of famous people. The value to be achieved from this was purely education; it was to teach children how to dress and make clothes, and not for them to play at being mothers. The reason some of the dolls are dressed so beautifully is because in the Courts of Medieval Europe, dolls were used as messengers of fashion, and later sent from Paris to all parts of the world to show the current fashion trend and hair style.

Mrs. Matheson, the owner of Heves that dolls tell the story of mankind, and depict all the interests of life. She is preparing a book on the history of dolls which will be in publication some time this year.

Mrs. Cartwright Hosts Club's Music Section

Members of the music department of the Arcadia Woman's club met recently at the home of Mrs. Leonard Cartwright. Mrs. Clark Bridgeman presided at the meeting and final plans were made for the Christmas luncheon and program.

A delightful program was presented by an instrumental trio consisting of flute, Mrs. Bridgeman; violin, Mrs. LeRoy Anderson; and piano, A. P. Stahrman. They played "Suite" by Eugene Gossens, "Then There Was a Valley" and "Bergonia." The mother and daughter team, Mrs. Cartwright and Della Cox, played two piano duets.

Dessert and coffee were served by the hostesses, Mmes. Cox, Harvey Thombs and Cartwright.

Those present were Mmes. Bridgeman, LeRoy Anderson, Stahrman, William Cosgrove, Charles Gauthier, Joseph Parnham, George Blanchard, Lincoln Schick, Fred LaRay, Charles Stewart, Albert Green, Lyman Vollintine, Thatcher Jordan, B. Osterman, Earl Towsley, Francis Lull, Harvey Moss, Roland Bennett, E. J. Frentriss, Daniel Slattery, Ben Sherman, Robert Paroisse, Charles Manley and Archy Slover.

Christmas Decor Features Luncheon of Woman's Club

Last week's luncheon meeting of the Woman's Club of Arcadia was held in a pre-Christmas setting.

Following a delicious meat casserole and salad luncheon prepared and served by Mrs. Lester Schottler and her committee, Mrs. Daniel Slattery, president, introduced her guest speaker, Mrs. Florence Wilson, Arcadia police-woman, winner of the Arcadia Woman of the Year contest.

The secretary and treasurer read their reports and the following new members were introduced and welcomed: Mrs. Ally Foy, Mrs. Walter Osterman and Mrs. Robert Gee. Mrs. Ernest J. Fuerst was introduced as the new federation chairman, appointed by the board to fill this vacancy.

The beautiful Christmas decorations on the tables and throughout the clubhouse were the work of Mrs. Albert Weickert, chairman of the art and craft department, and her committee.

Mrs. Alan W. Langlois, chairman of the evening department, introduced an outstanding program by Frances Nash Donovan. Her characterizations from a Broadway play were enthusiastically received by the club. The evening department sponsored the appearance of this talented actress at the club.

Noted Artist To Entertain at Woman's Club

The first meeting in December of the Woman's Club of Arcadia will be held Wednesday with luncheon served at 11:30 a.m. by Mrs. Leslie Schottler and her committee. Mrs. Daniel J. Slattery, president, will welcome members and friends and introduce her luncheon guest speaker, Mrs. Florence Wilson, Arcadia policewoman.

Following the luncheon meeting there will be another outstanding program at 1:30. Frances Nash Donovan will bring "Broadway" to the club in her unique and inimitable "One-Woman-Theater" re-creations of recent and current Broadway successes.

Hers are not readings in the usual sense for there is no script in hand to hamper the imagination of her audience as she quickly and deftly sets the stage, creates the characters, each a clearly etched and distinct personality whose identity, once established, is never lost as the drama unfolds.

Native to the middle west but now residing in California, this charming, gifted and tremendously versatile young actress has always been prominently identified with the many facets of the American theater. A noted director of a famed Southern California repertory theater recently stated that Frances Nash Donovan is "one of the very few persons I have ever seen do, so successfully, such a one-woman-theater program."

Reservations are requested today before 5 p.m. Call Mrs. Gene C. Clarkson, DOuglas 7-2750.

Art and craft department will offer attractive and hand-made decorative gifts for Christmas. These gifts will be available before and after the club meeting Wednesday.

LOCAL JUNIORS PACK FOOD FOR SERVICEMEN

Arcadia Junior Woman's club is cooperating with the Los Angeles District CFWC Junior project by making home-made cookies and candies to be sent to men of the Air Defense command stationed at distant outposts.

The cookies will be transported by "air lift" insuring a Christmas for many servicemen. Three thousand boxes are expected to be delivered to the district's December conference in Glendale, according to Mrs. Marshall Kieler of North Long Beach, District Operation GI chairman and organizer of the project.

Today's serviceman is likely to be forgotten, says Mrs. Kieler, mainly due to the fact that he is no longer required to wear a uniform off post.

Mrs. Richard Kramb, Operations GI chairman for the Arcadia Juniors, is working with the district chairman by collecting the boxed cookies the members have prepared and delivering them to the district conference. Assisting on her committee are Mmes. Jack Burke, Fred Bush, Robert Douglas, Richard Werner, Robert Kidd, Gerry Smith and Dale Plehn.

carried out in the decorations, with a centerpiece of candles, figurines and holly at each table. Mrs. Gerry Finn, handicrafts chairman, is in charge of decorations.

Mrs. Lawrence Kelley, program chairman, will introduce the speaker of the evening, Mrs. Merrill Grow, lecturer, writer and instructor, who will speak on flower arrangements for the holidays, including outdoor decorating, anni-varsaries and showers, gift wrapping, patio entertaining, children's parties, favors, menus and decorations. Her topic will be "Something From Nothing."

Background

Mrs. Grow comes by her artistic ability from an exceedingly interesting background. Her mother was the sixth generation of Merrills born in the same house in Back Bay Boston and a graduate of Boston Conservatory of Music. She was famous as a pipe organist and pianist in old San Francisco.

Mrs. Grow was born near Seattle and graduated from the University of Washington. She has had classes under several specialists in the flower arrangement field. She lived in Alaska for six years before coming to San Pedro where she now resides, and has been active in civic life of that city. She organized and is still active in the American Association of University Women, charter member of the Women's division of the Chamber of Commerce, YWCA board of directors, Assistance League, Red Cross and Garden club.

Mrs. Grow conducts a weekly garden column in the local newspaper of her resident city, and was among the few professionals invited to display at the recent International Flower Show of Hollywood.

Arcadia Woman's Club Honors Ministers at Christmas Luncheon

Mrs. Daniel Slattery, president of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, welcomed friends and members at the annual Christmas luncheon meeting last Wednesday. Ministers of Arcadia and their wives were special guests. At the opening of the day the pledge of allegiance was given and all joined in singing "America." The Rev. Thatcher Jordan, pastor of the Church of the Good Shepherd, gave the invocation. Luncheon tables and the foyer were beautifully decorated in individual centerpieces, made by the art department of the club.

Mrs. Slattery introduced the Rev. and Mrs. Henry Louis Ewan, new member. Mrs. F. H. Clark, the Rev. and Mrs. S. H. Hall, the Rev. and Mrs. Jordan, the Rev. and Mrs. William Dorsey, the Rev. Bridgman, Mrs. A. P. Stuhman and Mrs. Bennie Flint, the Rev. and Mrs. Leroy Anderson, enter-Rev. and Mrs. Leonard A. Gil-mour, the Rev. and Mrs. Karl Meyers, and the Rev. and Mrs. Edwin Howard.

The Rev. Mr. Dorsey brought a Dutch tenor, Dick Roberts, called Christmas message to the group the banjo king, and Matilde Bar-and the president extended greet-ings of the season to all.

HALF-ORPHAN BENEFIT

Arcadia Club to Aid Christmas Gift Fund

Funds to guarantee a merry Christmas for half-orphans in Los Angeles County will be raised by the evening department of the Arcadia Woman's Club at a bridge party and salad bar luncheon Wednesday noon in the clubhouse.

"The More, the Merrier Christmas," is the theme for the day, according to Mrs. Lester Lee, ways and means chairman. Assisting are Mmes. Robert Wagner, Jack Moore, Carl Bellow and Keith Hagberg.

Boys on Gift List

Until last year, the group had been able only to supply gifts for girls, but a sufficient sum was raised in 1954 to include gifts for a large number of boys, Mrs. Lee reports. Department members hope to present clothing and gifts to even a greater number this year.

Mrs. William Messick is philanthropy chairman of the department, assisted by Mrs. Clifton Niederhaus and Mrs. Robert Titzmeyer. Mrs. Alan Langlois is department chairman.

EVENING DEPARTMENT PLANS BRIDGE-SALAD BAR LUNCHEON

"The More, the Merrier Christmas" is the byword for members of the evening department of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, who with the advent of the fall season are once again seriously considering the fulfillment of their most gratifying goal: that of supplying Christmas gifts for the half-orphans of Los Angeles county. This year to raise the necessary funds for the now traditional gifts of sweaters and skirts and dressed dolls for girls and clothing and appropriate toys for the boys, the group is holding a bridge-salad bar luncheon.

The event will be held Sept. 21 at 12 noon at the Arcadia Woman's club, 324 South First avenue. Door prizes will be given and gifts presented to all who attend. Department members are requested to make as many reservations as possible with committee members who will contact them.

Mrs. Lester Lee, ways and means chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. Robert Wagner, Mrs. Jack Moore, Mrs. Carl Bellow and Mrs. Keith Hagberg.

Half-Orphans

The half-orphans, victims of broken homes, number approximately 270 in Los Angeles county, with the majority of the children being located with foster parents in the San Gabriel Valley. While it is possible for some of these parents to give their charges some sort of Christmas remembrance, there are more who are unable to do so. It has been the goal of the evening department to see that not one of these half-orphans is forgotten at Christmas-time.

Mrs. William Messick is philanthropy chairman of the group this year and serving on her committee are Mrs. Clifton Niederhaus and Mrs. Robert Titzmeyer.

Anyone interested in attending this luncheon is asked to contact Mrs. Lester Lee at DOUGLAS 6-1606.

Woman's Club Plans Annual Holiday Lunch

Woman's Club of Arcadia will hold its traditional Christmas luncheon meeting Wednesday at 1:30 in the clubhouse which will be appropriately decorated for the occasion. At this annual event the ministers of Arcadia and their wives are honored guests.

Following the luncheon, scheduled for 11:30, a Christmas message will be delivered by the Rev. Willard C. Dorsey, pastor of the Arcadia Christian church. Mrs. Daniel Slattery, president, will welcome members and guests.

Following the intermission, a musical program, "The Romance of Stephen Foster," will feature the life and music of the great American composer. Presenting the program will be the radio and television artist, Lynne Shannin, narrator; Hendrik de Boer, concert and opera tenor; the recording artist, Dick Roberts, "The Banjo King," and Matilde Barsha, pianist.

Reservations are required by 5 p.m. today. Call Mrs. Gene Clarkson, DOUGLAS 7-2750.

JUNIOR CLUB PLANS BUFFET DINNER DANCE

Gay Christmas decorations will be featured at a buffet dinner dance the Arcadia Juniors are holding Saturday evening at Albert Sheetz restaurant in Arcadia. Members and their husbands are invited and a social cocktail hour will be held at the home of the Juniors' president, Mrs. Bert C. Schaar, 325 Magellan road at 7:30.

Co-chairmen for the evening are Mmes. Paul Beach and Thomas Doley. Assisting are Mmes. Richard Swanson, Robert Lauritzen, William Burgess, Donald Hage, Russell Farnum, Lilian Dahl, Howard Dauer, Eloise Zima, Samuel Brumigton, Robert Sible and Dan Copenhagen.

EVENING DEPARTMENT TO MEET THURSDAY

Evening department of the Arcadia Woman's club will hold its monthly meeting at the Woman's clubhouse on Thursday at 8 p.m. The speaker for the evening will be Mrs. Florence Wilson, Arcadia policewoman. Mrs. Wilson, who was named "Arcadia's Woman of the Year" in 1954, will speak on her duties as a policeman.

Hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. Lester Lee, Mrs. Albert Clement and Mrs. Shirley White. Members are asked to bring three sheets of Christmas wrapping paper. For reservations please call DOUGLAS 6-1606.

True Christmas Spirit

Evening Department of Woman's Club Insures Happy Christmas Time for Half-Orphans of San Gabriel Valley

The most heartwarming experience at Christmas time is the sight of those whose hearts are so filled with the true spiritual meaning of this season that they find time in the midst of all the hurry and bustle to pause and devote much effort to fulfill the concept that "it is more blessed to give than to receive."

Much has been written these past months concerning the very successful "White Christmas Ball" held last Saturday evening at the Shrine club by the evening department of the Arcadia Woman's club.

It was indeed a gala affair and all attending enjoyed a wonderful evening. The most important fact, however, is that the success of the beautiful Christmas Ball insured a "Merry Christmas" for several hundred half-orphans who reside in foster homes throughout the San Gabriel Valley. While their foster families do a splendid job in providing good homes for these children, it is often financially impossible for them to provide Christmas gifts also.

Many residents of Arcadia have assisted in the evening department's Christmas program. Mrs. William Messick, philanthropy chairman for the group, and her committee composed of Mrs. Clifton Niederhaus and Mrs. Robert Titgemeyer started planning and buying and sewing for their worthwhile project early last spring.

4-H Girls

This year as in the past, a group of 4-H girls led by Mrs. James Thomson of 525 Fairview avenue made many of the lovely skirts for the older girls. The 4-H members deserving much credit and thanks for their fine handiwork and thoughtfulness are Nancy Wells, Rusty Shields, Karen Wingo, Diana Wolter, Linda Henry, Joan Koch, Alicia Graham, Shirley Duhn, Janet Esse and Sydney Glass.

The Beta alumni chapter of Alpha Kappa Tau sorority donated the money to purchase scarves for the matching skirts and sweaters as they have done before.

In addition to the members of the evening department who made skirts and cuddly toys, a number of the senior members of the Arcadia Woman's club including Meses, Bruce G. McAbery, Ernest J. Fuerst, W. W. Lawrence, R. A. Young, C. L. Johnson, A. L. Weckert, Charles W. Stewart and L. S. Cartwright also gave their time and effort which is greatly appreciated.

Last month Mrs. Messick was notified by Mrs. Miller of the Welfare Board that one of the half-orphans, a boy of 14, was in desperate need for a bike. Mrs. Messick contacted Mrs. Catherine Mundy of the Arcadia Tribune who graciously inserted a plea for a bike in her paper. The response was immediate. Mr. and Mrs. William G. Gekas of 2411 El Monte avenue had listened to the tragic story of a young woman who had been raised in a series of foster homes featured on a national television program, and upon reading the request called and offered a bike to the half-orphan.

SANTA'S HELPERS—Members of the evening department of the Woman's Club of Arcadia will provide Christmas joy to the half-orphans of the San Gabriel Valley, their traditional Christmas program. Shown here with the beautifully wrapped packages, dolls and gifts to be delivered to the children, are members of the department. Left to right, Mrs. Thomas E. Kemp, Mrs. William W. Messick and Mrs. Anthony Anger.

Last Thursday evening found evening department members wrapping a veritable mountain of clothing of exceptional quality, exquisite dolls, games of all sorts, balls and bats, and countless little stuffed animals, all of which will delight many youngsters who might otherwise have been overlooked at Christmas time. In the room there seemed to exist an aura of peace and warmth, the feeling which comes from giving to those not so fortunate as ourselves and more particularly giving to deserving children.

THE WOMAN'S CLUB OF ARCADIA
BULLETIN FOR JANUARY, 1956

"The Only Way To Have A Friend Is To Be One."

"HAPPY NEW YEAR"

My sincere wish for each of you in 1956 will be a Happy Year but let us also keep in mind, that something as bright and shiny as a New Year gives us many opportunities to go forward to new and better things. So, let us all try to meet each new day with a bright outlook. Let us meet the needs of our Federation of Women's Clubs. Each one is a challenge and no job is impossible. Remember our slogan "Strength United is Stronger."

Those wishing to enter the creative writing contest, sponsored by the literature department, are urged to give their prose and poem entries to Mrs. John Ross, chairman of the contest, as soon as possible, inasmuch as the final date for acceptance will be March 15.

Art Group Holds Party

One of the outstanding meetings of the art department of the Woman's Club of Arcadia was the Christmas party held during the Christmas week. There was a short business meeting presided over by the chairman, Mrs. Albert Weickert, after which members made felt angels.

A delicious potluck luncheon was served at tables decorated with red tapers and holly, and gifts were exchanged under the beautiful tree in the clubhouse.

Committee in charge consisted of Mrs. Edward Kaurin, Charles Sholdes, E. J. Verhoef and Rose Lane.

Arcadia Woman's Club To Open New Year With Fine Program

The Woman's Club of Arcadia will open the new year on Jan. 4 with its first Wednesday meeting of the year. Luncheon will be served at 11:30 a.m. by Mrs. Bruce McAbery and her committee followed by the regular business meeting at which Mrs. D. J. Slattery will preside. Her luncheon guest speakers will be Mrs. Oscar Chagnon and Mrs. Jack King of the Arcadia Junior Woman's club.

... lecturer

An interesting program has been scheduled by the program committee. The short recess after luncheon will be followed by an entertaining program to be given by Caroline Thomas Harnsberger, author and lecturer. The author has had outstanding success with her lectures on "Mark Twain at Your Fingertips," and her compilation on Lincoln, "The Lincoln Treasury."

The lecturer believes that a sense of humor is a sense of proportion. Her appreciation of this quality was instilled by her Welsh father who kept the minds of his children alert through the unexpected turn of a phrase or an apt story and who, in spite of the usual excitements which accompany large families, made daily life in his home pleasant through his practical application of humor.

Background

With this background, and after she had completed courses at the Juilliard School of Music, Ohio State university and Northwestern university, it was natural for Mrs. Harnsberger to return to her early interest and make an intensive study of humor, with emphasis on Mark Twain. Her reading of Twain and Abraham Lincoln enabled her to corroborate her conviction that great men use humor as a balance wheel to secure ease of living in finding peace with themselves and others, and in learning to discriminate between what is important and what is not important in life.

Mrs. Harnsberger became acquainted with the platform as a solo violinist. In recent years she has stood upon it in most of the United States as a popular lecturer on many unusual phases of humor. Her travels include a year's residence in Paris, France, a month in Italy, a call on George Bernard Shaw in England shortly before his death, an appearance on the Mary Margarette McBride celebrity program, many visits with Clara Clemens in California and numerous trips to Washington where she made the acquaintance of statesmen.

Promptness in making reservations for luncheon will enable the committee to arrange accommodations for everyone. For reservations call Mrs. Gene Clarkson, DOuglas 7-2750, before 5 p.m. next Monday.

EVENING DEPARTMENT

Grace Olebadot, first grade school teacher, will present a skit, "Some's System for Schooling Scholars," at Thursday night's regular meeting of the evening department of the Woman's Club of Arcadia. Mrs. Allan Langdon, chairman, will open the meeting at 8 in the clubhouse.

Food Sale Planned by Garden Section

Mrs. Elizabeth Verhoef, chairman of the garden department of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, welcomed members at the recent meeting of the group in the clubhouse. Mrs. M. R. Clark, program chairman, continued the contest of the naming of states and the state flowers.

Mrs. Edward Kaurin gave a short report on the Christmas party and prize winners of the contest, thanking all who helped with the tables and decorations.

Mrs. Karl Stephens, who will be chairman of the annual flower show this spring, urged all members to begin planting now for potted plants, flowers and other plants.

It was announced that a food sale will be held at the first regular luncheon meeting of the club in February and all were urged to participate in this ways and means project of the department.

Following luncheon, Mrs. Clark presented Mrs. Iris Rice, a member of the department, who gave an interesting talk and illustrations of various bottle and flower arrangements. She displayed several of her own bottles with arrangements in them.

The afternoon lecture was given by Kenny Kay of Hayes Sprayer company, who spoke on the spraying of flowers and showed beautiful pictures of flowers grown in Hawaii.

Several door prizes were given by Mr. Kay. Hostesses for the day were Mrs. Rose Lane, Mrs. Olive Hall and Mrs. Edward Kaurin.

February meeting of the department will be held at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Verhoef.

Club's Garden Group Stages Unusual Contest

Christmas party of the garden department of the Arcadia Woman's club was highlighted by the staging of an unusual contest. Under the direction of Mrs. M. R. Clark, members were costumed to represent different varieties of roses, and as each lady paraded, members tried to guess what rose she represented.

Mrs. E. J. Verhoef presided at a short business meeting which was followed with a potluck luncheon served at tables decorated with holly and berries. Mrs. Charles Sholdes, Mrs. Edward Kaurin and Mrs. William Adams were chairmen.

Members exchanged beautiful plants as a Christmas gift exchange.

Arcadia Woman's Club Welcomes City Officials at Civic Day Event

The Woman's Club of Arcadia celebrated its annual Civic Day at the Jan. 18 luncheon meeting presided over by Mrs. Daniel J. Slattery, president. Speaker of the day was Dr. Thomas Lantos, who took his audience on an interesting tour of the horizon of world affairs. Mrs. Edward Rein gave the devotional, the pledge of allegiance was led by Mrs. Wood Glover and Mrs. A. P. Stuhler directed the singing of "America." Luncheon was served at tables beautifully decorated by Mrs. Andrew Heilman.

Mrs. Slattery welcomed the civic guests and introduced Mayor Dwight Hulse. The mayor praised the club for its cooperation in civic activities and discussed plans for the improvement of Arcadia.

Chairman

The president then introduced Mrs. John T. Simpson, Civic Day chairman, who introduced the following guests: Councilmen D. S. Camphouse and Elton Phillips, City Clerk Walter Cornish, City Manager William Richards, Neil P. Anderson, chief of police; Lawrence W. Larson, city controller; Michael J. Caronza, city engineer; John C. Hayes, water superintendent; Clifford C. Pollock, personnel officer; Christine Van Mappen, secretary Civil Defense; Catherine Ann Murphy, city treasurer; John C. Panatier, recreation director; James Nicklin, city attorney; Gifford Eastwood, president Arcadia Chamber of Commerce; Ed Beaty, manager Arcadia Chamber of Commerce; Mrs. Maryanne Phelps, a member and president of the women's division of the Chamber; Mrs. George Killeen Jr., president of Arcadia Coordinating council; Harold Roach, publisher Arcadia Tribune; Mrs. Catherine Mundy, Tribune women's editor, and Dr. Norvell Dice, superintendent of Arcadia Unified School district. Dr. Dice thanked the club for its help toward education in Arcadia, and also thanking the club for Mrs. Simpson, who gave invaluable assistance while a member of the Arcadia Board of Education.

Committee

Mrs. Simpson thanked her committee for its assistance in Civic Day. Mmes. J. P. Ross, E. J. Fuerst, William Gibbs, Andrew Heilman and W. C. Winchester.

Mrs. Slattery announced to Dr. Dice that the club is giving a scholarship this year to a student at the Arcadia High school.

Mrs. N. E. Stadig, program chairman, introduced the speaker, who gave an outstanding review of the world and the part Russia is playing. A native of Budapest, Dr. Lantos has the unique combination of outstanding professional training and fascinating personal background, making him a stimulating interpreter of world developments. His warm personality also added appeal for his audience.

Copper Jewelry Made by Art Department

Twenty-nine were in attendance at the first meeting of the year of the art department of the Woman's Club of Arcadia held last week in the clubhouse. Mrs. Albert Weickert, chairman, welcomed the group which included Mrs. Daniel J. Slattery, club president.

During the morning the members made beautiful copper earrings and bracelets, of all shapes and designs. Two kilns were in constant use for the firing of the jewelry which had to be baked for the high polish of enamel.

Mrs. Weickert and program chairman, Mrs. Alma Balthes, spent a busy morning helping the large group with this project.

Luncheon was followed by a short business meeting when the group voted to continue work in copper at the next meeting when it is hoped that Mrs. Ralph George will show her Easter tree and explain the making of the decorated eggshells.

Hostesses were Mmes. Kaurin, Harriet Reitz and Audrey Hubbs. Others present were Mmes. Eloise Keyes, Caroline Ganther, Edna Dettra, Fanny Bain, Josephine Gates, Caroline Ganther, Rose Lane, Ann George, Helen Taylor, Mildred Godfrey, Katherine Brown, Tommye Jones, Billie Myers, Edna Ayers, Ruth E. Law, Alice Campbell, Martha Castle, Elizabeth Verhoef, Elsie Maloy and Peggy Beal.

CARD TOURNAMENT

First meeting of the card tournament of the Woman's Club of Arcadia will be held Friday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the clubhouse. Coffee and sweet rolls will be served at 10:30 a.m. Club members are invited to come and bring their friends.

Arcadia Woman's Club To Celebrate Annual 'Civic Day'

... distinguished

It has become a tradition of the Woman's Club of Arcadia to extend an invitation to Arcadia City officials to be guests of the club at a luncheon meeting. This annual Civic Day will be celebrated Wednesday at the 11:30 a.m. luncheon.

Mrs. Daniel J. Slattery, president of the club, will welcome the distinguished guests, members and friends. A catered luncheon will be served.

Following the luncheon intermission, Mrs. N. E. Stadig, program chairman, will introduce Dr. Thomas Lantos, who gives thought provoking commentaries on vital issues.

Dr. Lantos has the unique combination of outstanding professional training and fascinating personal background, making him a stimulating interpreter of world developments. His warm personality and original style have made him a favorite of many audiences.

A native of Budapest, he traveled widely on several continents. During World War II, he was an active member of the anti-Nazi underground; in the early post-war period he was in the forefront of anti-Communist political activity in Hungary. Upon being forced to leave his native land, he went to France and then came back to this country. He has made San Francisco his home and is proud of being an American.

His academic training commenced at the University of Budapest, continued at the University of Paris and the University of Washington (where he received a master's degree), and came to a formal conclusion at the University of California with a doctor's degree in the field of international economics.

He is a frequent lecturer on radio and television and has given countless talks throughout the country.

EVENING DEPARTMENT

Florence Wilson, Arcadia police-woman, will be guest speaker at Thursday night's meeting of the evening department of the Woman's Club of Arcadia. She will speak on her duties in Arcadia.

The meeting will be called to order at 8 by the chairman, Mrs. Allan Langlois, in the clubhouse.

WOMAN'S CLUB PLANS GALA SOCIAL NIGHT

Woman's Club of Arcadia will hold a social evening and potluck supper Saturday night at 7 at the clubhouse. Mrs. Archie Wilson will preside at hostess for the evening. Comfortable accommodations will be arranged for bridge and canasta and all in attendance will be eligible for door prizes. Members are urged to get their favorite partners lined up for the evening.

Literature Section Hears Life of Poet

Literature department of the Woman's club of Arcadia met Jan. 18 in the clubhouse with the chairman, Mrs. Lyman Vollintine in charge. A coffee hour was in charge of Mrs. Charles Johnson, Mrs. Russell Augspurger, and Mr. Charles Fields.

Mrs. J. K. Weema, program chairman, introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Powell Loveland of the Pasadena Browning society who gave a fine biography of the noted poet, Robert Browning. She also read several of his most outstanding poems.

Mrs. Robert Revelle, president of the Browning society, was also a guest.

The next meeting will be on Feb. 21.

Outdoor Breakfast

Junior Woman's Club Assists March of Dimes

The Arcadia Junior Woman's club will join the March of Dimes Arcadia campaign by putting on an outlook breakfast on the grounds of the El Rancho market on Saturday, Jan. 21 from 7 to 11 a.m., according to Mmes. Richard Swanson and M. R. Gauden, co-chairman of the event.

Merchants have donated all the food for the breakfast and the El Rancho Market has opened its coffee shop with the serving help provided by the employees of the El Rancho center, and members of the Juniors.

The menu will consist of juice, sausage, pancakes, eggs, coffee, milk, toast and jelly, and the breakfast charge is 25 cents per person.

The Juniors have contacted every organization in the city of Arcadia in hopes of making this an even more successful event than last year. Hinshaw's of West Arcadia has provided the funds for the printing of the tickets which have been distributed over the area. Tickets are available at the El Rancho market and residents who have not been contacted may secure tickets by calling Douglas 7-4677 and Douglas 7-4898.

Duplicate prizes of an Ansco Sure-Flash camera, donated by the El Rancho market, will be awarded the boy or girl selling the most tickets.

Garden Section Takes Over Club Project

Garden department of the Woman's Club of Arcadia met at the home of the chairman, Mrs. Elizabeth Verhoef, for the February meeting. Mrs. Verhoef announced that she and her committee, Mrs. Karl Stevens and Mrs. Russell Lucas, had made a tour of the clubhouse garden to formulate plans for its replanting with new shrubs, flowers and trees. The garden department will take over this project for the club.

Mrs. M. R. Clark, program chairman, continued with her naming of the states and their state flowers, and introduced Mrs. M. E. Stadig, who gave an interesting talk on "Arrangements in Greens," illustrating her talk with demonstrations.

The luncheon hour was highlighted with the hostesses serving cherry pies with ice cream and sherbet. Mrs. Verhoef's home was beautifully decorated in the Valentine arrangements of hearts and red and white carnations. The hostesses were Mrs. Edward Kaurin, Mrs. Rose Lane and Mrs. Jessie Smith. The homemade pies were baked by Mrs. Verhoef and Mrs. Kaurin.

The afternoon program was given by Ida Marmion, from Hines Nursery. She spoke on the planting of different flowers and plants for the coming months, how to prepare the soil and how to spray and gave many helpful suggestions.

Mrs. Marmion was enjoyed by the large attendance which stayed long after the program to ask questions.

Junior Woman's Club President Urges Housewives To Enter Contest

March 8 has been announced as the deadline for entering the Mrs. America contest, and Mrs. Bert Schaar, president of the Arcadia Junior Woman's club, encourages all local housewives to secure application blanks from their local gas company office and food markets to be eligible for numerous prizes to be awarded the winner. The Arcadia Junior Woman's club is sponsoring the Arcadia "Mrs. America" contest.

It was her 12-year-old son who prevailed upon Mrs. Ramona Dietemeyer to enter the Mrs. America contest last year. With the help of his father, Carl Dietemeyer, editor of the Nebraska State Farm Journal, young Steven urged his mother to prove what the Dietemeyer family already knew: that "Mom" was the best homemaker in the nation.

Young Steven proved his point all right, and approximately four months later a panel of some of the most distinguished homemaking judges in the United States put their seal of approval on the youngster's high opinion by naming Mrs. Dietemeyer, a comely blond from Lincoln, Neb., as Mrs. America for 1956.

Travel

Since that momentous day in May last year, Ramona Dietemeyer—and those of her family who could get free from time to time—have seen a great deal of the world: Florida, New York, California, Washington, the Holy Land, Europe (the latter two as part of one of Mrs. America's $25,000 worth of prizes, an overseas airline trip).

Their hearts, however, are still firmly planted in the soil of Nebraska and in their two-story brick house in Lincoln. Here Mr. and Mrs. Dietemeyer and their five children—besides Steven, there's Diann, 13; Kaye, 10; Cheryl, 9, and Kent, 7—live a full, old-fashioned family life, with a good, healthy emphasis on "getting along together" and with plenty of time left over for church and school.

She's happy, though, that winning the national Mrs. America crown gave her the chance to journey far and wide, over the U. S. and into foreign lands, carrying the message that good, simple, old-fashioned family values and religious living were still the real, bed-rock basis for American life.

Winner

Mrs. America for 1956 is sure that, no matter who should win the contest now getting under way to name Mrs. America for 1957, these same values will be upheld. She knows that the contest is not one to discover a bathing beauty or a highly ballyhoed starlet, but a search for an all-around homemaker on the basis of such homely arts as cooking, washing, ironing, sewing, housecleaning, poise, personality and community activity.

She has nothing but thanks for the American Gas association, sponsors of the contest, and she'll be on hand this year at the national finals again, to help crown her successor. She has a word of advice to the thousands of contestants who are currently making ready for contests on a local level throughout the nation.

"Just be yourself," she advises, "and do your level best. Nobody can ask any more of you. Not even your own family," she adds, with a smile.

Club Section To Hear Msgr. O'Keeffe

International section of the Women's Club of Arcadia will present the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Gerald O'Keeffe of the Holy Angels parish as guest speaker at the monthly meeting next Monday. Mrs. N. E. Stadig will entertain the group at her home at 545 Valido road, Arcadia, at 10 a.m.

Monsignor O'Keeffe will speak on "The Background of Events Leading to Revolution in Argentina." He is eminently qualified of this subject as he visited in Buenos Aires for 10 days just two weeks after the overthrow of the Peron government. At that time the city was still uneasy and the damage done by the two factions was evident. Mrs. Joseph C. Parnham, chairman of International affairs section, feels very fortunate in being able to present such an informed speaker on this trouble spot of the world.

Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Francis B. Lull at Douglas 7-5697 or Mrs. N. E. Stadig at Douglas 7-7553.

Woman's Club To See Skits by Junior Club

Regular luncheon meeting of the Woman's Club of Arcadia will be held Wednesday with luncheon to be served at 11:30 a.m. The business meeting will follow with President Mrs. Daniel J. Slattery presiding.

The afternoon program will be presented by members of the Arcadia Junior Woman's club. Mrs. William Pennington and Mrs. Richard Nickel, co-chairmen of the drama department, have staged and directed the program which promises to be an entertaining one.

The skits will include the Can Can, an old fashioned bathing girls scene, a Hawaiian scene and several musical acts.

Mrs. A. P. Stuhman of the senior club will accompany at the piano.

Call Mrs. Gene Clarkson at Douglas 7-2750 for reservations.

Lucy Wyss Wins Orchid

An orchid to Mrs. Lucy Wyss, indefatigable Red Crosser who has completed her district in the membership fund campaign for the local organization to the tune of $100. This is an achievement that deserves the lovely blossom presented by Mrs. Thomas Slick, whose husband raises orchids as a hobby.

Mrs. Slick is a member of the financial council of the 1956 fund campaign, and the district allocated to Mrs. Wyss comes under her direction.

Woman's Club To Hold Special Day

Arcadia Woman's club will observe its annual Reciprocity day Wednesday at the regular meeting at 11:30 a.m. Mrs. Daniel J. Slattery, president, will welcome special guests at this annual celebration of federated clubs to promote friendliness and neighborliness.

Special guests will be Mrs. P. E. Willis, district president; Mrs. Wilbur G. Wenzlaff, district scholarship chairman, and Mrs. Eugene Nott, state president of junior women's clubs. Other guests will be the presidents of a number of federated clubs in nearby cities.

The Junior Woman's club of Arcadia will prepare and serve the luncheon and decorations will be done by the garden department.

Following the luncheon intermission, Mrs. Clark Bridgman, chairman of the music department, will introduce the program for the afternoon.

Luncheon reservations are requested no later than 6 p.m. today.

ARCADIA WOMAN'S CLUB REPRESENTED AT AREA CONVENTION

Arcadia Woman's club was well represented at last week's day-long convention held at the La Crescenta Woman's club, with nine local members in attendance.

Because of a re-districting of woman's clubs in this area, there are now 29 clubs in the new district 16, which comprises clubs in the Foothill area.

Accompanying Mrs. D. J. Slattery, president, were Mmes. A. L. Wilson, vice-president; William Adams, Harvey Thombs, L. W. Ross, H. E. Moss, John Richardson and J. Frentress. Mrs. Ruth McAbery, director-at-large, also was present.

Local Clubwomen Attend Convention

The 25th annual convention of Los Angeles County CFWC was held March 12 at the Biltmore hotel ballroom in Los Angeles with Mrs. Ivy M. High, president, officiating at the morning session and at the 7 p.m. banquet.

The following members of the Arcadia Woman's club attended as delegates: The president, Mrs. D. J. Slattery; Mrs. A. L. Wilson, Mrs. William Adams, Mrs. Leonard Ross, Mrs. John Richardson, Mrs. Harvey Thombs, Mrs. L. V. Vollintine and Mrs. Elmer M. Godfrey.

Local Woman's Club To Give Scholarship

A girl or boy student graduating in June from Arcadia High school will be given a $500 scholarship by the Woman's Club of Arcadia. Mrs. Ivan Timmons, chairman of the philanthropy department, and her committee are in charge of the scholarship project.

Mrs. Daniel Slattery, president of the club, has called a meeting of the committee this morning at her home to discuss final plans for the selection of a student.

Other members of the committee are Mmes. Albert Weickert, B. G. McAbery, Alan W. Langlois, Edward Verhoef, Joseph Parnham, Lyman G. Vollintine, Clark Bridgman, George Clinger, Robert Jones and J. E. Hutton.

Art Group Plans Potluck

Art and craft department of the Woman's Club of Arcadia will have a potluck salad luncheon at Wednesday's meeting in the clubhouse. Each member is asked to bring her own table service and a salad to serve six. Rolls, dessert and coffee will be served.

The group will meet at 10 a.m. in the solarium to make Easter decorations under the direction of Mrs. Ralph George. There will also be prizes for the prettiest, funniest and most artistic spring bonnets, which have been made by members.

CLUB SOCIAL NIGHT

Mrs. N. E. Stadig, hostess for the monthly social night of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, invites all members to come and enjoy a pleasant evening. A potluck supper is served at 7 o'clock and all are asked to bring their favorite dish. Cards will follow supper and bridge and canasta will be played for prizes.

Arcadia Women To Attend CFWC Conclave

Many important decisions will be made at the convention of Los Angeles district, CFWC, to be held April 3-4-5 at the Biltmore hotel in Los Angeles. The 54-year-old district will be divided into 16 districts and the Arcadia Woman's club will become part of the Verdugo district, which will include clubs in the foothill area.

Delegates attending from the Arcadia club will be Mmes. Daniel Slattery, president; A. L. Wilson, William Adams, Wood Glover, Robert Gee, N. E. Stadig, Alan W. Langlois and Robert Lane. Mrs. Bruce McAbery, who is district director at large, will also attend.

LITERATURE DEPARTMENT

Mrs. C. A. Wirth will talk on the subject "Why Be a Bibliomaniac" at the regular meeting of the literature department of the Arcadia Woman's club next Tuesday. The meeting will open with a kaffee klatsch at 9:45 a.m. in the solarium of the clubhouse.

ARCADIA JUNIORS ASSIST MOBILE UNIT IN ARCADIA

Arcadia Junior Woman's club did the service and book work last Friday for the Tuberculosis Mobile unit when it was in Arcadia. Mrs. Russell Farnum, safety chairman for the Juniors, was in charge of the project. Assisting her were Mmes. Wade Burchell, Richard Kramb, Edward Schaar, Lillian Dahl, Lawrence Kelley, John Dunn, Robert Kidd, William Hurter and Edward Davis.

LAL CHAND MEHRA
... Eastern lore

Fine Program Planned for Woman's Club

Lal Chand Mehra, lecturer and technical authority on India and the Orient, will present his work, "Life and Cultures of the East and West," at the regular meeting of the Arcadia Woman's club. His life-time study of questions of world significance concerning India and Asia, his education and upbringing in both the East and West makes his programs interesting, informative, stimulating and inspiring.

In motion pictures Lal Chand Mehra has served as a technical adviser and character actor in such productions as "The Lives of a Bengal Lancer," "The Rains Came," "The Razor's Edge" and many others.

The regular luncheon and meeting will start at 11:30 a.m., with Mrs. D. J. Slattery, president, welcoming members and guests. Music during the luncheon program will be presented by four students from Arcadia High school's music department.

Reservations are requested no later than this evening at 8.

HISTORY DEPARTMENT

History and landmarks department of the Arcadia Woman's club will take a field trip to the Los Angeles County arboretum Wednesday. Members will meet at the clubhouse at 12 noon. Each lady is asked to bring her sandwich. Coffee and dessert will be served.

Club History Section Hosted at Weaver Home

History and landmarks department of the Woman's Club of Arcadia enjoyed the gracious hospitality of its chairman, Mrs. William Weaver, when she hosted the regular meeting of the department at her home, 327 Oxford drive, on Feb. 22.

It was announced that the members will take a field trip to the Los Angeles County arboretum on March 28. They will meet at the clubhouse at 12 noon, bring a sandwich, and coffee and dessert will be served.

Plans were made for the department to enter an exhibit at the annual flower show of the club on April 12.

During the afternoon program members followed the wanderlust trail with Edwin Gontor by way of his projector slides, all in beautiful color. Among the many public buildings and other beautiful landmarks were Spanish missions, the old Pershing square, Olvera street, the Will Rogers square along the road to Dana Point at La Jolla, and Capistrano mission.

Mrs. Weaver, assisted by Mrs. John Scull, served coffee and cake from a table attractively decorated with white spring blossoms.

Those in attendance were Mmes. M. M. Trew, Francis Lull, Arnold Ayres, Mary Dysart, John Scull, Lucy Wyss, Amy Hankins, Charles Ganther, L. A. Rice, Alice Moss, Archie Wilson, Eugenia Griffin, Edwin Gontor, R. C. Stackhouse, Albert Green, John Vanderbur, Herbert White, Rose Lane, E. J. Verhoef, John Richardson and Juliet Renshaw.

Arcadia Junior Woman's Club Wins CFWC Honor

Proud and happy were the members of the Arcadia Juniors who attended the art show at the district conference of the Los Angeles district, California Federation of Women's clubs, which was held in the Tuesday Afternoon club in Glendale on Monday evening.

The Juniors' exhibit was awarded first prize for clubs whose membership is over 50. In addition, an abstract in oil by Mrs.

Robert F. Brown, one of the paintings in the prize-winning exhibit, was selected by the judges for purchase by the State federation.

Mrs. Brown has been studying painting for the past four years in the Adult Education class at Arcadia High school, first under Justine Wishek, whose work is well known, and latterly under Don Yacoe. Her prize purchase painting was completed this past year in class.

Also singled out for special mention by the judges were four delicately colored and beautifully executed pastels by Mrs. Charles Coulter, and a Columbian head in oil by Mrs. Eloise Zima, the good lines and depth of the latter painting being particularly praised. There were 13 entries and all entrants were members of the Juniors.

Art Appreciation

Congratulations are being showered on the Penny Art chairman, Mrs. Robert G. Dahlquist, for the success of the exhibit, and for her work this past year in increasing interest and appreciation of art not only in the club itself but throughout the community. Dee Dahlquist's monthly art "corners" at club meetings, and her "Small Fry" art show held recently have been outstanding. The award is particularly gratifying, not only to the Juniors themselves, but to all of Arcadia, for it is the first time that a first prize in art has ever been awarded to Arcadia by the District Federation. The District Federation numbers 72 Junior Women's clubs with a membership of over 4,000.

Scholarships

Penny Art derives its name from the fact that a penny from each member is collected from all Junior Women's clubs and the money used to further art through scholarships and the purchase of paintings by young California artists.

In addition to the above-named, other members whose work was exhibited were Mrs. Milton Vogel, a sculptured head; a wood carving, Mrs. Teddy Zima; two copper pictures, Mrs. Robert Lauritsen; a coat with original design hand bead work by Mrs. Bert Schaar; four black and white fashion sketches and two water color children's pictures by Mrs. Kenneth Ward; three country scenes in oil by Mrs. Dan Copenhaver; an American primitive water color by Mrs. Gerry Pinn, and a modern oil painting by Mrs. Zima.

'Garden Path' Flower Show Announced

Mrs. Karl Stephens, chairman of the annual flower show of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, announces that this year's show will be held April 12 at the clubhouse and will carry the theme of "Garden Path."

All Arcadians are urged to participate in the show and those desiring to do so are asked to contact Mrs. Russell Augspurger, 837 Kingsley drive, for entry blanks.

Each department of the club will have its own special entry at the show and a special arbor display will feature the arrangements of the novice.

Mrs. Stephens is being assisted by Mrs. Russell Lucas and Mrs. William Gibbs as co-chairmen.

Arcadia Juniors Support Project 'Operation GI'

Arcadia Junior Woman's club has endorsed and supported the state project of Operation G.I. in helping the staff the Hollywood canteen. Under the chairmanship of Mrs. Richard Kramb, the Juniors are taking over the operation of the canteen for two evenings. In making the announcement, Mrs. Kramb pointed out that the canteen received world-wide recognition during the war years, but since the cessation of World War II, most people have forgotten the thousands of young men who are still in service.

During the week-end periods over 2,000 young men seek the services of the canteen. The chairman added that today's activities will be to serve coffee and donuts, since none of the women are required or permitted to dance, under existing rules.

In addition to staffing the canteen for the two evenings, the Juniors voted at its regular budget and finance meeting last fall to provide refreshments for the evening that the Arcadia women were to work at the canteen.

Assisting Mrs. Kramb for the evenings will be Mmes. Denny Coombs, William Pennington Walter Nollac, Russell Farnum, Donald Marver, Wade Burchell, Kenneth Ward, Edward Schaar, Frank Clark, Dale Plehn and Lillian Dahl.

AWARD WINNERS—Pictured here are the paintings, sculpture, copper pictures and wood carving that won first prize for the Arcadia Junior Woman's club at the recent district conference of the California Federated Women's clubs in Glendale. Seated is Mrs. Robert G. Dahlquist, the Junior's Penny Art chairman, who was in charge of the exhibit. Standing is Mrs. Robert F. Brown, whose abstract painting was singled out for special commendation by the judges at the art show. This exhibit will be on view at Nash's in West Arcadia, starting today and continuing through Saturday.

ARCADIA JUNIOR WOMAN'S CLUB TO AID SISTER KENNY CAMPAIGN

Mrs. Bert Schaar, president of the Arcadia Junior Woman's club, has enrolled her club to participate in the Sister Kenny Foundation's annual May fund-raising campaign. Mrs. Lawrence Kelley, 2735 Fairgreen, has accepted the appointment as Sister Kenny chairman for the club.

Hardworking Mrs. Kelley, who is also volunteer clubs and organizations chairman for the Sister Kenny drive, will familiarize members with the program of service at the Sister Kenny Memorial Hospital and Rehabilitation center in El Monte and will enroll members to work toward a club award through campaign participation.

"Effort must be expended to raise enough money to support the expanded program of service at the Sister Kenny Memorial Hospital and Rehabilitation center," Mrs. Kelley emphasized. "Victims of other neuromuscular diseases, as well as polio, are now being interested in aiding the Sister Kenny Foundation drive may contact Arcadia's clubs and organizations chairman Mrs. Kelley at Douglas 6-1541.

admitted to the famed facility regardless of race, religion, color, age, or ability to pay."

As a community service project, club groups working on the Sister Kenny program will work toward a Gold Candle or Silver Candle award to be presented at the third annual Recognition Day breakfast at the Statler hotel in June. A Gold Candle pin will also be presented again this year to the woman whose work is most outstanding in behalf of the Sister Kenny program.

The Sister Kenny Memorial hospital which now admits victims of neuromuscular diseases such as cerebral palsy, muscular dystrophy, multiple sclerosis, etc., in no way duplicates the services of any other agency.

Mental Health

Arcadia Junior Woman's Club Gives Money for PTA Lecture Series Here

With its enviable record of successfully completing many projects for philanthropic and service causes, the Arcadia Junior Woman's club this year adopted yet another project to put its efforts to, that of Youth and Mental Health Philanthropy. In connection with this, last week the club presented a check for $300 to the Arcadia Council of Parents and Teachers to sponsor a series of lectures.

The Juniors also presented a check to the Methodist Hospital of Southern California at Arcadia to buy rehabilitation equipment for the psychiatric ward of the hospital.

A series of lectures will be sponsored by the Arcadia PTA council and the Arcadia Unified School district to follow the pattern so successfully presented recently by the PTA council, when it brought Dr. E. Pfister to Arcadia in a series of lectures on child guidance. A well known and accredited speaker will be obtained for the lectures. The particulars will be announced later.

The Arcadia Mental Hygiene society will also be represented at the lecture series with its mental health pamphlets. These are available from more than 20 different national and local sources and are regularly reviewed by the educational service of the Southern California Society for Mental Hygiene. The pamphlets are made available in one central source for the convenience of the public and are sold on a non-profit basis.

Other programs of the Juniors for youth are camperships for Arcadia children and a continued scholarship for Barbara Sue Perlmutter, a student at the University of California at Berkeley.

Mrs. John L. King is philanthropy chairman with Mrs. Keith Lee, Mrs. Teddy Zima, Mrs. John Dunn and Mrs. Richard Gaudin serving on her committee.

Mrs. King La Rocque is the hostess for the evening and is planning a lovely party with good food and an evening of bridge and canasta. It might be well to call Mrs. Archie Wilson if you plan to come.

DON BLANDING
... dynamic

World Traveler

Don Blanding to Speak At Arcadia Woman's Club

Mrs. Lyman G. Vollintine, chairman of the literature department of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, has announced that Don Blanding, noted author, lecturer and world traveler, will be the featured speaker at the April regular luncheon meeting of the club which is sponsored by the literature department.

Mr. Blanding is a dynamic platform speaker, and has an almost electrifying effect on an audience.

His complete mastery of words gives his listeners vicarious travel pictures; moments of rest and comfort, hope and a new grip on life.

He will read from some of his most recent books, "Hawaii Says Aloha" and "Joy Is an Inside Job." It is anticipated that he will also include "Vagabond's House," which is in its 44th edition.

Inherited

Mr. Blanding grew up in Oklahoma during the turbulent Oklahoma Territory days and from it inherited a rich experience for later years in writing and drawing and living.

He first went to Hawaii in 1916, where an active career in advertising began, from which developed a very fine expression in art, learned from an old Chinese candlemaker in Honolulu. From that time on, Don Blanding's beautiful verses and poetic prose have been lavishly illustrated with brush-and-ink drawings.

A veteran of two world wars, of which "Pilot Bails Out" is a product, Don Blanding has served his country well, both actively and with his facile pen. His poems about flyers and flying are widely known, and the lead poem "Pilot Bails Out" has been used at many military funerals. His "God's Eye View" is an official poem of United Air Lines, and copies may be found in each of their passenger planes.

Mrs. John Ross, cultural projects chairman of the literature department, will announce the winners and present the awards for the best poem and prose entries in the Creative Writing contest, which is an annual project of this department.

Hawaiian and South Sea Island decorations will be the motif for the luncheon and program. The luncheon will be served at 11:30, followed by a short business meeting at which Mrs. Daniel Slattery, president, will preside.

Mrs. J. K. Weems, program chairman for the literature department will present the speaker at 1:30. Past presidents of the Arcadia Woman's club will be guests at this meeting, as will be the guest speakers who have participated in monthly literature department programs this year.

Officers for the 1956-57 year of the Arcadia Woman's club will also be elected on this day, the returns on which will be announced during the afternoon program.

History Section Makes Tour of County Arboretum

Nineteen members of the history and landmarks department of the Woman's Club of Arcadia assembled March 28 in the solarium of the clubhouse where Mrs. William Weaver, chairman, presided in her usual gracious manner.

Sandwiches, tea, coffee and cake were served by Mrs. Juliet Renshaw and Mrs. John Scull from a table decorated with a beautiful bouquet of apple blossoms.

Mrs. Edwin Gonter and Mrs. Renshaw were appointed to serve as a nominating committee to select officers for the coming year. They were also named to act as hostesses at the annual flower show of the club to be given April 12 in the clubhouse.

At the close of the business meeting members enjoyed a tour of the Los Angeles County arboretum and were amazed to see what had been accomplished since their last visit. The new shrubs, trees and flowers and the peacocks with their brilliant colors as well as the Queen Anne cottage, the old coach barn and the lake were points of great interest to the group.

Those enjoying the day were Mrs. Renshaw, John Vanderbur, Weaver, Daniel Slattery, Gonter, Wallace H. Smith, Nellie Rivers, Lucy Wyss, Maurice Trew, Arnold Ayers, Amy Hankins, R. C. Stackhouse, Mary Valentine, Edward Olmstead, Leonard Brooks, Alice Moss, Scull, Lawrence Fry and John Richardson.

Arcadia Woman's Club Elects New Officers, Hears Talk by Don Blanding

Woman's Club of Arcadia elected new officers at last Wednesday's luncheon meeting, welcomed many guests as well as a large number of members, and heard an inspiring talk by Don Blanding, noted writer, world traveler and poet. Mrs. Daniel J. Slattery, president, introduced Mrs. Elmer Vollintine, chairman of the literature department, who were sponsoring the "day."

Those elected to head the activities of the club next year were: Mrs. Archie Wilson, president; Mrs. William Adams, first vice-president; Mrs. L. A. Rice, second vice-president; Mrs. J. C. Merrill, recording secretary; Mrs. T. B. Kemp, corresponding secretary; Mrs. A. W. Langlois, federation secretary; Mrs. L. W. Roth, treasurer; Mrs. John Richardson, senior trustee; Mrs. John Skinner, junior trustee; Mrs. N. E. Stadig, secretary and news chairman, and Mrs. Harvey Thombs, program chairman.

Past presidents were honored in the department and were seated at a special table. Those present were Mrs. G. G. Mead, Mrs. Harry Pike, Mrs. Jessie Stewart, Mrs. Wood Glover, Mrs. John P. Ross, Mrs. Bert J. Morris, Mrs. J. K. Weems, Mrs. Charles Ganther, Mrs. Bruce McAbery, Mrs. John T. Simpson and Mrs. Earl Deltra. Also honored were three speakers of the department during the year, Mrs. C. A. Wirth, Mrs. W. Paul Loveland and Miss Judith Borgehausen.

Winners

Winners of the literature contest were: First prize in fiction, Mrs. Lyman Vollintine; second winner, Mrs. E. J. Fretress, poetry; first and second both went to Mrs. Mary Hughes.

Mrs. Neil Stivers of Sherman Oaks, district literature chairman, was also an honored guest as was her mother, Mrs. D. E. Hall, also of Sherman Oaks.

Mrs. Robert Ringle of the Volunteer Speakers committee for the Hollywood Bowl, spoke briefly explaining the programs for the season.

Don Blanding held his audience enthralled with his poetry and his philosophy which he presented in a humorous and entertaining style. Later he autographed his books in the foyer of the clubhouse.

Dynamic Speaker

Woman's Club to Hear Blanding, Elect Officers

Literature department of the Woman's Club of Arcadia will sponsor the afternoon program Wednesday at the Woman's Club of Arcadia. Mrs. Lyman Vollintine, chairman, has announced that Don Blanding, noted author, lecturer and world traveler, will give an inspiring program.

Luncheon will be served at 11:30 a.m. when past presidents of the club and guest speakers of the literature department during the year will be special guests. The Hawaiian theme will be carried out in the decorations.

Officers will be elected for the new year and Mrs. Daniel J. Slattery, club president, urges all members to vote and show their support of the candidates.

Symphony

Mrs. Robert Ringle, chairman Volunteer Speakers committee of the Hollywood Bowl, will discuss the highlights of this summer's Symphonies Under the Stars set to start July 10. In so doing she will name the outstanding conductors and soloists programmed for the eight week bowl season.

In addition, Mrs. John Ross, cultural projects chairman of the literature department, will present the awards for the best poem and prose entries in the creative writing contest, which is sponsored annually by the department.

Luncheon reservations are required to be in by tonight at 8. Call Mrs. G. C. Clarkson, DOUGLAS 7-2750, or Mrs. L. K. Campbell, DOUGLAS 7-8610.

Don Blanding, Noted Traveler, to Give Program at Woman's Club

Don Blanding, noted lecturer, author and world traveler, will appear at the Woman's club of Arcadia at the April 18 luncheon meeting, sponsored by the literature department, which Mrs. Lyman G. Vollintine is chairman.

A world traveler, adventurer in many lands and fields, a humorist with a practical joyous approach to living, Don Blanding is a weaver of vivid word pictures which allow his listeners to share in his adventures.

For many years Don Blanding has been the undisputed poet laureate of Hawaii. Never before has the lure of this tropic paradise been so completely captured as in his verse and drawings in his wonderful Hawaiian poems.

Don Blanding's talks are not lectures—they are experiences. He is a geiger counter locating the radioactive joy within; his road maps for living are a joy and an inspiration to all who will follow them.

Home

At various times Mr. Blanding has called New York, Hollywood, Taos, N. Mex., Bend, Ore., Carmel and Honolulu home. His first recognized poem, "Vagabond's House," the lead poem in the book of the same title, now in its 44th edition, has prompted thousands of people to establish Vagabond Houses of their own.

Throughout all of his books runs a deep spiritual thread, binding all of his richest experiences together. Whether he writes of a gnat, a sequoia tree, babies, cats or a quiet hour with a friend—underneath lies a great spiritual truth which all discerning persons may find.

Luncheon

Hawaiian and South Sea Islands decor will be carried out for the luncheon at 11:30 and the program which follows. Mrs. J. K. Weems, program chairman of the literature department, will introduce the speaker at 1:30.

Past presidents of the Arcadia Woman's club will be special guests of the department that day, as will guest speakers who have participated in monthly literature department programs this year.

Election of officers will also be held, the returns of which will be announced during the afternoon program.

EVENING DEPARTMENT

Evening department of the Arcadia Woman's club will meet tonight at 8 at the home of Mrs. Dene Christie, 1032 South Fourth avenue. Mrs. Alan Langlois, chairman, will preside at the business meeting.

WOMAN'S CLUB SOCIAL EVENING TO BE HELD AT LEONARD ROSS HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Ross will host the monthly social of the Arcadia Woman's club on Saturday night at their home, 1032 South Fourth avenue. Arden road, Pasadena. A supper will be served at 7:30. It is an informal party and no shirts may be worn by the men. Mrs. King La Bogue is co-chairman for the evening and is planning an interesting party which will include canasta and bridge. Call Mrs. Archie Wilson for reservations.

Young Musicians To Play for Club Section

Music section of the Arcadia Woman's club will have two outstanding young musicians as guests at the regular meeting to be held tomorrow at the home of Mrs. Ahlert Stuhman, 1032 South Carlos road.

Desiree and George Mongar, daughter and son of Mr. and Mrs. Mongar of Monrovia, will appear as a team. Desiree, 17, flutist, and George, 14, violinist, accompanied each other in the piano. They will each play other instruments, the viola and clarinet respectively.

Last year George won the Gabriel Valley Young Artists Award in the Junior division, and also won the Bank of America Gold Cup award.

George is the first clarinet player in the Monrovia-Duarte high school orchestra and both his sister plays flute in the San Gabriel Valley Junior Symphony and viola in the San Gabriel Valley Symphony.

Both Desiree and George are active members in the Pasadena Musicale Juniors of Pasadena in the Pasadena Musicale.

Woman's Club Gives Flower Show Today

"The Garden Path," theme of the annual flower show of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, will open today at 2 o'clock in the clubhouse, 324 South First avenue. Mrs. Karl Stephens, chairman of the show, has invited the public to attend. A silver tea will be held throughout the afternoon and evening.

The stage will be beautifully decorated in the Garden Path theme by Mrs. Stephens and her co-chairmen, Mrs. Russell Lyman and Mrs. William Gibbs.

The exhibits of the departments which will be displayed in the foyer, will be judged by popular vote.

Many lovely door prizes will be given between the hours of 4 and 8:30 p.m. and at 8, the Chamber of Commerce sweepstakes drawing will be presented.

Among the exhibits will be those of Dana School students, who are entering the show for the second time. There has been great interest shown in their horticultural class, which is taught by Edna A. Winter, in preparing their specimens for the show.

Mrs. Russell Lucas Wins First Place in Local Flower Show

The recent flower show held by the Arcadia Woman's club, "The Garden Path," was pronounced a great success by chairmen in charge. Mrs. Karl C. Stevens, Mrs. Lucas and William Gibbs, who won the grand sweepstakes prize, went home with 68 points. Mrs. M. A. Clark won second place, and Mrs. Edward J. Verhoef, third place.

Entries in the flower included a variety of art department of the club projects they had entered during the year, a historical display of the garden department and the music department's miniature musical instruments.

The literature department's display was a very large old bible with candles, and the art department and Dana had displays of various indoor plants and scrap books.

The Los Angeles State and County Arboretum brought many beautiful plants for a display in the garden. Judges for the show were George Spaulding of the Arboretum, James Girdilian, Kenny Lee, Ada Marmon, from Pasadena, Margaret Gerrick, Muriel, Lydell Rose, Frances Franzell and Naomi Group.

Sweepstakes trophy won by Mrs. Lucas was the perpetual gold cup and a glass and gold planter.

Club's Garden Section Views Tulip Slides

Colored slides of "Holland in Full Time" with background music was the special feature of the recent meeting of the Garden department of Arcadia Woman's club.

The program was presented by Frances Kay of Kay's Sprayer company, who told the group members of the history of the Holland tulip bulbs of which are crated and shipped to all parts of the world. Mrs. Edward Verhoef, chairman, presided at the meeting and hostesses for the day were Catherine Benson, Elizabeth Lulland and Catherine Ganther. Program Chairwoman Florence Clark read a list of the flowers of the different states which will be reviewed at the next meeting is a memory test.

A nominating committee was appointed consisting of Mrs. Rose Clark, Josephine Gates and Nettie Wood.

WINNER—Mrs. Russell Lucas, sweepstakes winner at the annual flower show of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, is shown here as she was presented with the Chamber of Commerce trophy by William Suhm, a director of the Chamber. The show, which carried the theme of "The Garden Path" was a successful and beautiful show. THE WOMAN'S CLUB OF ARCADIA

BULLETIN FOR MAY, 1956

This is your last Bulletin for 1955-1956 and I want to take this opportunity to thank all chairmen and committees and those who have contributed in any way to make this year a happy one for me. Each of you has played an important part, for no club can function without the cooperation of all.

I have truly enjoyed my year and shall have wonderful memories to carry with me. With your loyal cooperation and fine community spirit, I feel sure the club will continue to grow and be successful, and will reflect the thought of our theme for this year: "The Only Way To Have A Friend Is To Be One."

Clara Slattery, President

MAY 2 - REGULAR MEETING

Club Section Tours Adobe In San Marino

History and landmarks department of the Woman's club of Arcadia enjoyed a picnic lunch last week in beautiful Vineyard park in San Marino.

After a short business meeting the group toured the Miguel Blanco adobe located on a tiny plot of raised ground set squarely in the midst of the M. L. Carver High school campus in San Marino. Michael White, soldier and sailor of fortune, built the adobe in 1845, and he and his wife, Maria de Los Angeles, lived there with their 13 children.

Enjoying the day were Meses. William Weaver, chairman; Arnold Ayers, Mary Dysart, John Vanderbur, Charles Ganther, John Scull, Juliet Renshaw, Eugene Griffin, Lucy Wyss, Wallace Smith, Floyd Kingsley, Archie Wilson, Edwin Genter and Mrs. Herbert White and her daughter, who was a guest the day.

KIPLING'S POEMS TO BE SECTION FARE

Literature department of the Arcadia Woman's club will hold a kaffee klatsch at 9:45 a.m. on May 15 in the clubhouse. Mrs. Ethelyn Young, who was to have presented her program in April, will speak on the biography and poems of Rudyard Kipling.

The department will install officers in June and the program will be presented by two of its members, Mrs. E. J. Frenress, who will speak on the topic, "Lest We Forget," and Mrs. William Weaver will talk on "Pulitzer Prize Winners."

GARDEN DEPARTMENT TO HEAR TALK ON TREES

At their meeting on Wednesday, members of the Arcadia Woman's club garden department will hear a talk by a representative of the Davey Tree Surgery company.

Florence Clark will conduct a test for the State flower contest. Tea, coffee and cookies will be served and members are to bring sandwiches.

History Section To Sponsor Club Program

History and landmarks department of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, will sponsor the afternoon program at Wednesday's regular luncheon meeting, and will present Frederic Christian. Mrs. L. A. Rice, second vice-president, will officiate in the absence of Mrs. D. J. Slattery, president, and Mrs. A. L. Wilson, first vice-president, who will be at convention.

Mr. Christian has led a nomadic life, exploring and filming some of the most fascinating spots of the world—Egypt, Greece, Palestine, England, Denmark, France, Italy, Hawaii and Ethiopia. His years of travel, lectures and photography have made Christian film lectures top attractions. Luncheon will be prepared by Mrs. William Weaver and her committee chairman.

All reservations for luncheon are requested to be in by 6 tonight. Call Mrs. G. C. Clarkson, DOuglas 7-2750, or Mrs. L. K. Campbell, DOuglas 7-8610.

Assisting Mrs. Dale Flehn, chair-

Managers and messagers, furnished by Mrs. Kenneth Ward, will be the centerpieces at each table.

The Juniors will present their mothers and guests with corsages and Mrs. Richard Nickel will delight the guests with several vocal selections. Mrs. Robert Kidd, president, will introduce Mrs. Bert Schaer, Junior past president, who man of the event will be Miss Robert Downer, William Piro, Donald McGuigan, Henry Bremer, Wade Burchell and Jerry Smith.

Juinar Woman's Club Plans Spring Dance

Ways and means committee of the Arcadia Junior Woman's club held its first meeting April 23 at the home of Mrs. Edward Schaar, second vice-president and ways and means chairman, to outline the program for the coming year.

Plans are well under way for the club's first project, which will be the annual invitational dance, "Goodbye to Spring," to be held May 19 at the Santa Anita Turf Club. With the music of Darrell Brewer and his S. S. Catalina band, this gala affair is expected to be the most successful in the group's history.

The annual surprise kaffee klatch and fashion show were also discussed. Mrs. Schaar and her committee are also planning to prepare and serve all the Senior Woman's club of Arcadia luncheons this coming year to further their proceeds.

Assisting Mrs. Schaar on these projects will be Mmes. Samuel Brimington, Jack McCarville, William Pennington, Milton Vogel, Fred Bush, Walter Nollac, Richard Carlson, Kenneth Ward, Donald Marxer, Lawrence Kelley, Richard Beaton, Gordon Campbell, Robert Simon, Charles Hostetter, Jerry Smith, Richard Davidson, Russell Fennem, John Dunn, Lillian Dahl, Donald McGuigan and Kenneth Anderson.

All profits derived from these affairs will go to further the club's philanthropy program as set forth in the budget.

HONORED—Mrs. Lillian Dahl presenting plaque, inscribed, "Mrs. Arcadia of 1956," to Mrs. Edward L. Sharr. Three well known painters, Norman Hall, Joe Carmichael and Frode N. Dann, will make a painting of Mrs. Scharr simultaneously, Saturday May 12, at 2:30 p. m., in the West Arcadia Hub. The Mrs. America contest is sponsored nationally by the American Gas association and in Southern California, by Southern California and Southern County Gas company and by local dealers.

Arcadia Juniors Win Three Awards At Convention

The Arcadia Junior Woman's club set an all time record of attendance at the recent Los Angeles District CFWC convention held at the Ambassador hotel in Los Angeles and came home with two third-place awards for their year's work, and third place for convention attendance of clubs with 50 or more members.

Under the capable direction of Mrs. Bert Schaar, president, the club raised and donated $2960.16 and spent 8025 hours on club projects.

The needlework award, with Mrs. LaVerne Hubbard chairman, was won by club members raising and donating $111 toward the purchase of 265 new garments presented to the needlework guild for needy families. Handwork and packing involved 165 hours on this project.

International Relations

International relations' award, with Mrs. Edward Schaar chairman, was won for such projects as sending 530 usable garments to the Orthopedic hospital for children in Manila; 1400 old nylons to the industries for women in Japan; 20 scrapbooks to the Indian missions, donating $180 to the American Field service to bring foreign exchange students to this country. Meals for Millions, CARE packages and Crusade for Freedom are only a few of the other donations made by the club in this category.

New District

As a result of the Los Angeles district dividing into four separate units, the Arcadia Juniors will now be a part of the Verdugo District No. 11, with Mrs. G. W. Quesenbury of the Monrovia Juniors, president. Others serving on the district board will be Mrs. Bert Schaar, Arcadia Juniors, first vice-president, ways and means; Mrs. Robert Brooks, Verdugo Hills Juniors, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Robert Lee, Los Angeles Chinese Juniors, treasurer.

The monthly district meetings will be held alternately at the various clubs in this group during the coming year.

Mrs. Stadig Presides at Meet During Absence of President

While the president and other officers of Arcadia Woman's club were absent attending the state convention, Mrs. N. E. Stadig was nominated to preside over the club's regular luncheon meeting of May 3, with members of the history and landmarks department sponsoring the day.

The tables and stage were decorated in an "Early California" theme with covered wagons, imitation hunks of gold and orange and gold flowers, done by Mrs. Homer Brown and her committee. History and landmarks department members who served the luncheon were Mrs. William Weaver, chairman, and Mmes. L. Fry, J. Renshaw, C. Dysart, F. Kingsley, J. Seull, Lucy Wyss, R. Hankins, L. Hatch, A. Ayers.

Mrs. Stadig welcomed all members and guests and proceeded with the regular business meeting. Mrs. A. P. Stuhman of the music department announced that all payments had been made on the new piano in the foyer and that this gift from the music department now belongs to the club.

District Convention

Mrs. William Adams, secretary, gave an interesting report and review of the recent district convention of CFWC held at the Biltmore hotel.

Winners in the bridge and canasta tournament were announced by Mrs. H. Toombs, chairman of ways and means. First winners in bridge were Mrs. William Adams and Mrs. Charles A. Rose. Second winners were Mrs. James Skinner and Mrs. Earl Towsley. Canasta winners were Mrs. Floyd Kingsley and Mrs. Mary Burbank, and second winners were Mrs. D. Mulcahy and Mrs. Decker.

The afternoon's program was "California," a travelogue photographed and narrated by Fredric Christian.

MUSIC TO HIGHLIGHT CLUB DAY

Arcadia Woman's club will hold its last regular luncheon and meeting of the year Wednesday, featuring a musical program.

The Romantic Hour trio, Miss George-Ellen Ferguson, lyric-coloratura soprano; Leonard Morganthaler, bass-baritone, and Raymond McFeeters, composer-accompanist, will entertain. Special duet arrangements have been made by Mr. McFeeters for Miss Ferguson and Mr. Morganthaler, combining the exciting beauty of coloratura singing with the rich warmth of the baritone voice. The repertoire will include "Tell Me That You Love Me Tonight" and "They Say That Falling in Love is Wonderful."

Luncheon reservations are requested by 6 p.m. today for the affair, which will begin at 11:30 a.m. with Mrs. D. J. Slattery, president, welcoming members and guests. There will also be reports from departments plus convention news.

Mrs. Towsley Heads Section

Evening department of the Arcadia Woman's club elected new officers at last week's meeting at the home of Mrs. Gene Clarkson. Installation ceremonies will be held next Wednesday at a luncheon at the Westerner with Mrs. Daniel Slattery as installing officer.

New officers are Mmes. Towsley, chairman; Keith Hagberg, vice-chairman; William Peterslidge, hospitality; Robert Titgemeyer, recording secretary; Gene Clarkson, corresponding secretary; Kipp Niederhaus, treasurer; James Kerchival, philanthropy, and Anthony Anger, publicity. Mrs. Towsley has appointed Mrs. Robert Kemp to be parliamentarian.

Mrs. Alan Langlois is retiring chairman.

Club Section Supper Planned

International Affairs section of the Arcadia Women's club is planning a buffet supper and program to be held next Monday at 7 p.m. at the clubhouse. Mrs. Joseph C. Parnham, chairman of the section, announces that the menu will consist of turkey, salads and homemade desserts. All members of the Women's club and their friends are invited to attend and reservations will be taken until today. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Joseph C. Parnham at DOUGLAS 7-2727. As this is a ways and means project the donation for supper and the evening of entertainment will be $1.25 per person.

The program will be "A Tour Through Europe" with Mr. and Mrs. Richard W. Straub showing color slides of their recent trip through 17 European countries. Mr. Straub gives a most interesting commentary on the trip. While in Finland the Straubs visited Mrs. Straub's sister and brought their niece, Miss Pirkko Koskela, to Arcadia with them. Miss Koskela is a graduate of Sibelius Academy of Music in Finland and is at present attending Scripps college in Claremont. Miss Koskela will sing a selection of folk songs.

DANCING PLANS—Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Campbell, left, and Mr. and Mrs. LaVerne Hubbard are organizing "A Serenade to Spring," annual invitational dance of the Arcadia Junior Woman's club to be held Saturday at the Santa Anita Turf club. Mmes. Campbell and Hubbard are members of the Juniors.

Juniors' Program To Feature Food

Foods and recipes for family fare and fancy occasions will be the program at Wednesday's meeting of the Arcadia Junior Woman's club. A representative of the Helms Bakery will present a cooking school called "Menu-Randoms" with commentary and full color slides. Each guest will receive a gift and a folder containing all recipes shown and demonstrated.

Individual desserts, furnished by the Helms Bakery, will be served following the meeting by Mrs. L. J. McCourt, chairman, and her refreshment committee. Mmes. Richard Swanson, Gerry Finn, Edward Davis and Robert Shelton.

Mrs. Daniel Slattery Presides as Woman's Club Brings Year to Close

Mrs. Daniel Slattery, president of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, welcomed members and guests at the club's last regular luncheon meeting of the year, held in the clubhouse last Wednesday.

The day opened with invocation by Mrs. J. Lindell, followed by the pledge of allegiance and the singing of "America." Luncheon was served amid May baskets filled with sweetpeas and glittering handmade butterflies perched on greenery. Decorations were created in life.

Following a short recess, the program was presented by the "Rainbow Hour Trio." They were introduced by Mrs. Stadig.

John Raymond, recipient of the club's first scholarship to a student of Arcadia High school, was introduced by Mrs. I. Pivarski, publicity chairman. John thanked the club for the honor bestowed upon him. He is active in church affairs as well as his campus activities and intends to major in business at Pepperdine college.

Painting

Mrs. William Weaver, chairman of the History and Landmarks department, presented the club with a beautiful painting, "San Gabriel Mission" painted by J. B. Seull, husband of a club member. Mrs. Slattery accepted the gift on behalf of the club and thanked the department.

Annual reports were given by the various departments and a report on the state convention was given by Mrs. A. L. Wilson, vice president.

Reports

Departments reporting on activities for the year were Mrs. Lyman G. Volentine for the Literature department; Mrs. Alan Langlois for the Evening department; Mrs. A. L. Weickert, chairman of art and handicrafts, told of their activities and thanked Mrs. E. J. Verhoef for donating an engraved cup awarded to the department for its display at the annual flower show. Mrs. Timmons explained about the scholarship fund. Mrs. Bruce McAbery, director at large for Los Angeles district, spoke about the convention. The International Affairs department received an award at the State convention in Berkeley, and Mrs. J. C. Parham, chairman, accepted the certificate and gave the department's year report.

Convention

In her report on the state convention, Mrs. Wilson said there were nearly a thousand clubwomen in attendance. Banquets and luncheons were held in the three large hotels and the Elks club and there were many interesting panel discussions and music by the university glee club and concert orchestra. Dr. Norbert N. Einstein, consultant on world affairs, spoke on "This Unsettled World," and Mrs. N. J. Klein, chairman of International Affairs department of the general federation, spoke on the subject, "What Means Most to Us

Woman's Club Art Section Decorates Eggs

Art department of the Arcadia Woman's club made Easter decorations at its regular meeting in the clubhouse with the chairman, Mrs. Albert Weickert, presiding. The group colored the egg shells which they later trimmed with lace and rick-rack braid and made tiny handles to hang the eggs on the Easter tree. Mrs. Ralph George brought a tree which she had made to illustrate the use of egg shells.

A delicious salad luncheon was served from tables decorated by Mrs. Edward Kaurin and her committee in the St. Patrick's day theme with green and white hats and shamrocks.

Several of the ladies made Easter hats which were judged by a committee headed by Mrs. Weickert. Prizes were won by Mrs. Elmer Godfrey for the prettiest; Mrs. William Hubbs and Mrs. Rose Lane, the most original, and Mrs. George, the most unique.

Those present were Mmes. Weickert, George, Hubbs, Charles Ganther, Lou Taylor, Harriet Lietz, Lane, Kaurin, E. J. Verhoef, Archie Wilson, Freeman E. Gates, Charles Johnson, Herman Bauerle, John Maloy, Godfrey and the club president, Mrs. Daniel Slattery.

Women's Role

International Affairs Chairman of CFWC To Be Guest Speaker of Local Club at Frazer Home

Mrs. J. C. Parnham, chairman international relations section of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, announces that the next meeting of the section will be held at the home of Mrs. James P. Frazer, 600 North Old Ranch road, on Monday, Nov. 28, at 10 a.m. The speaker for this program will be Mrs. Charles T. Butler, chairman of international affairs California Federation of Women's clubs. Honored guests will be Mrs. W. B. Arens, county chairman of international affairs, and Mrs. J. E. Ronstadt, Los Angeles district chairman.

Mrs. Charles T. Butler is a graduate of Wellesley college and has traveled extensively including three world cooperative trips with General Federation. On these trips Mrs. Butler served as official photographer and wrote the news releases on the South American trip at the request of the public relations consultant of the General Federation of Women's clubs.

The role played by women in the achievement of independence by the nation so newly born in the Asiatic area and their current activities in promoting the welfare of their peoples will form the theme of Mrs. Butler's talk. During the course of her talk, which she calls "Full Moon," in tribute to pioneers such as the gentle but resolute Kartini whose work for the education of women is still celebrated by a grateful Indonesia on Kartini day. Also to today's leaders, such as the Begum Liaquat Ali Khan, founder of the All Pakistan Women's association.

Latest Information

Last January Mrs. Butler visited both New York and Washington to secure the latest information in this field. She has had the cooperation of the cultural officer of the Pakistan consulate general in New York, and the embassy staffs of India, Thailand and Indonesia in Washington.

Her narrative ranges from Nur Jehan (The Light of the World), conceded by European visitors to her husband's court in the 1600's to be one of the most fascinating women in history, to Nilawarn Pinthong, founder and editor of one of the largest women's magazines in Thailand. Between are observations concerning educators, social workers and women whose creative ability finds expression in organization for civil defense as well as in the fields of their countries' culture in the dance, painting and writing.

International Hostess

Mrs. Butler has met a number of women while serving as an international hostess, first on the General Federation board in 1950, and from 1953 to 1955 as chairman of international hostesses for the California Federation of Women's affairs for the state federation. She will bring with her, in addition to pictures and printed material concerning the women of Asia, collections of photographs, letters and year books to illustrate the work of the overseas membership of the General Federation in 151 organizations in 43 countries.

Mrs. A. R. Foy will introduce Mrs. Butler to the members and guests at this "coffee." Hostesses will be Mrs. Lawrence Kelly, Mrs. Charles W. Stewart and Mrs. John P. Ross.

Club Officers Installed at Luncheon Meet

Officers of the Arcadia Republican Women's club were installed last week in impressive ceremonies at a luncheon meeting held at Eaton's Santa Anita. Mrs. William I. Baumann will again head the club as president.

Mrs. D. J. Slattery, president of the Woman's Club of Arcadia and a charter member of the Republican Women's club, conducted the lovely candlelight ceremony.

Taking office with Mrs. Baumann were Mrs. M. G. Davis, first vice-president; Mrs. C. O. Porter, second vice-president; Mrs. J. C. Schaeffer, third vice-president; Mrs. Jack Finch, recording secretary; Mrs. Roger Stoll, treasurer.

The orchid corsages worn by each officer were the gifts of Mrs. George L. Johnson of Santa Anita Oaks, whose fine greenhouse and hobby of orchid culture are earning her a wide reputation.

Assemblyman Joseph C. Shell of the 58th district was guest speaker, and he spoke on the possibility of a state tax reduction during the legislative session which opens in Sacramento next month.

Mrs. M. G. Davis, program chairman, was assisted by Mrs. N. E. Stadig, Mrs. J. P. Frazer and Mrs. D. B. Duncan.

Mrs. Joe Parnham Heads Department of Woman's Club

International affairs section of the Arcadia Women's club met last Monday to discuss plans for the coming year. Mrs. Joe Parnham, new chairman of this section, entertained at luncheon in her home for this first meeting. Mrs. J. A. Richardson, past chairman, installed the following new officers: Mrs. Joe Parnham, chairman, Mrs. Francis B. Lull, hospitality, Mrs. W. W. Lawrence, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Albert J. Clement, ways and means.

Mrs. Parnham has been active in civic affairs in Glendale and Pasadena as well as Arcadia and she is planning a most interesting calendar of events. The proposed speakers for the monthly meetings are all well versed in international affairs and will stimulate a greater interest in the changing world. It is hoped that many members will take advantage of the opportunity this department offers to learn and understand our neighbors. Two evening dinner meetings are planned and members' husbands will be invited to participate and hear the outstanding speakers.

First Meeting

The first regular meeting will be held Monday, Oct. 24, at the home of the president of the Women's club, Mrs. Daniel J. Slattery, 3035 Hodges avenue, Arcadia. This will be a "coffee" at 10 a.m. The Rev. Thatcher Jordan will speak on "World Issues for Clubwomen," which promises to be a most stimulating talk.

California History Department Closes Year, Installs Officers

The California History and Landmarks department of the Arcadia Woman's club held the last meeting of the year at the home of Mrs. Earl Dettra, out-going president of the club. A delicious pot-luck luncheon was served by the committee in charge consisting of Mrs. William Weaver, Mrs. John Scull, Mrs. John E. Vanderbur and Mrs. Lucy Wyss. Mrs. Charles Ganther, chairman, presided at a short business meeting. Thanks were expressed to the officers and members who cooperated in making the past year a success and also to Mrs. Scull and Mrs. Weaver for purchasing the California State flag which was presented by Mrs. Charles Ganther to the Woman's club at the last meeting as a gift from the department. Mrs. Ganther introduced Mrs. J. E. Hutton, president of the Arcadia Historical society, as a special guest of the day.

In recognition of her tireless efforts and enthusiastic leadership in making the year a very successful and outstanding one for the History and Landmarks department, Mrs. Ganther was presented with gifts from the members consisting of the book "It's an Old California Custom" by Lee Shippey, and also a bottle of her favorite perfume.

Mrs. Weaver read an interesting article on "California Trees" contributed by Mrs. Belle Gilmore. Old scrapbooks dating back to the inception of the department in 1934 were enjoyed by the group. The charter members present were Mrs. John Renshaw and Mrs. M. M. Trew.

Installation

Mrs. Daniel Slattery, incoming president of the club, installed the officers for the coming year in a beautiful ceremony, using lighted tapers bedecked with flowers. The following officers were installed: Mrs. John B. Scull, chairman pro tem; Mrs. Floyd K. Kingsley, sec-

Dear Clara:

The San Gabriel Valley Junior Symphony is having the closing concert of its Fourth Season on Sunday afternoon, June 5 at 3 p. m. at San Marino High School auditorium, 2701 Huntington Dr., San Marino.

As you no doubt remember, the Woman's Club of Arcadia was the original sponsor of the orchestra under the "Build Freedom With Youth Program." A year and a half later, an independent sponsoring organization, the San Gabriel Valley Junior Symphony Orchestra Patrons' Association was formed in order to assume the responsibility for the continued operation of the orchestra. This we have done, and we have been particularly proud to count the Woman's Club of Arcadia as one of our important patron members. Even though we are an independent organization, we are always deeply mindful and appreciative of the club's continued interest in this project, which is assuming an ever-more-important place in the cultural life of the San Gabriel Valley area.

We would, therefore, be very happy to have you to attend the concert as a specially honored guest.

Sincerely,

Nancy Hutton

Eight Arcadians To Appear in Final Valley Junior Concert

A year of musical accomplishment will be showcased when the San Gabriel Valley Junior Symphony orchestra plays the closing concert of its fourth season at San Marino High school on Sunday afternoon, June 5, at 3.

Eight young Arcadia musicians are among the 75 participants in this music group, which has been developed into one of the Valley's outstanding youth cultural projects.

They are Barbara Haddock, Georgia Harris, Anne Thomson, and Harvey Gurnian, violinists; Anne Reid, violist; Sue Christy, cellist; Carol Hendrixson, Gail Heidereder and Rochelle Kaplan, string basses; Jo Gene Griffin, clarinetist, and Sheila Kaplan, flute.

Invitation

An invitation is extended to all music-lovers, especially young music students, to attend the concert, which is free. The concert is under the joint sponsorship of the Associated Student Body of San Marino High school and the San Gabriel Valley Junior Symphony Orchestra Patrons' association.

The orchestra will be conducted by Edmund Beardsley and Harriet Scott Silver in the absence, due to illness, of Harold H. Scott, conductor since the orchestra's inception.

Program

The orchestra will play the organ prelude and fugue in C major, by J. S. Bach, transcribed for orchestra by Russ; selections from "The Bohemian Girl" by Balfe; the prelude and fugue in D minor, by Handel; the allegro finale from the Fifth Symphony by Beethoven; and a novelty number, "The Waltzing Cat," by Leroy Anderson, in which the orchestra will be under the baton of student conductor Robert Chaney of San Marino.

Two young soloists, both of whom have been with the group for four years, will play with the orchestra: Laurel Hutton, former Arcadian and now of Los Angeles, will play the Saint-Saens concerto for cello in A minor, and Barbara Haddock of Arcadia will present the canzonetta from the Tschai-kowsky violin concerto in D.

Guests

In recognition of its special assistance to the orchestra, specially invited guests from the Woman's Club of Arcadia will include Mrs. Daniel J. Slattery, new president; Mrs. Bruce McAbery, president, and Mrs. J. K. Weems, Build-Freedom-for-Youth Projects chairman, who respectively, when the orchestra was originally sponsored; and Mrs. John T. Simpson and Mrs. Earle Dettra, presidents during the period of the club's continuing partial sponsorship, according to Mrs. J. E. Hutton, orchestra founder and manager.

This concert will conclude the orchestra's work for the season, but plans are already under way for an expanded program commencing next September. Admission to the orchestra is by audition, and prospective members are invited to contact the manager at Normandy 4-7252.

Drama Group Plans Potluck

Drama department of the Arcadia Woman's club held a get-together recently and read the one-act play which will be put on for the club at the opening of the fall season.

The June meeting will be a potluck at the home of Mrs. E. J. Frentress, 260 West Camino Real avenue, and all members of the department are invited for a 12 o'clock luncheon.

Those present were Mmes. McAbery, Clement, Scull, Slattery, Richardson, Griffith, Frentress, Green Clarkson and a guest, Alice Mason.

PARTIES TO PRECEDE GALA HOLIDAY BALL

The gala White Christmas Ball being given Saturday night at the Shrine club by the evening department of the Arcadia Woman's club, will be preceded by many cocktail parties given by members at their homes.

Among these will be Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kemp of 441 Drake road, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wagner, 601 Santa Rosa road, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Marsh, 500 South Old Ranch road, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Lee, 621 Santa Rosa road, Mr. and Mrs. James Kercheval, 224 Longley way, Mr. and Mrs. Verne Winchell Jr., 329 Arbolada drive, Mr. and Mrs. James Skinner, 600 Arbolada drive, Mr. and Mrs. William Mesick, 158 Sandra avenue, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Langlois, 2230 Sewanee lane, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Koppel, 1219 Oakwood drive, Mr. and Mrs. William Bradner, 616 Arbolada drive, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Towsley, 1329 San Carlos road, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bosworth, 139 Magna Vista, Mr. and Mrs. William Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Moore of 1771 Oakwood drive will entertain the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Genthe, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Slattery, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kennedy Jr., Mrs. Nan R. Deverich, Ruth O'Mavity, Edward Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Clement, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Steinkuhler, Mr. and Mrs. Burt Deverish, Alice Stevenson, Al Sandau and Mr. and Mrs. John Richards.

WOMAN'S CLUB HOLDS GALA GARDEN FETE

Mrs. David Shrader, ways and means chairman of the Arcadia Woman's club, has thanked members of her committee and all members of the club, for the support she received at the first ways and means project of the year.

The occasion was a garden party held Wednesday in the beautiful gardens of Mrs. Robert Paradise in Santa Anita Oaks. A chicken salad luncheon was served at noon at small tables placed throughout the garden. Bridge and canasta followed with prizes, contributed by the committee, being given at each table.

Committee members assisting Mrs. Shrader included Misses Daniel Slattery, co-chairman of the party; Thomas Scott Swirles, Lucille Rouech, Milton Uhl, Albert Weickert, Jennie Davis, H. Verne Woodruff, Rose Lane, William Orr, William Adams, Katherine Brown, Freeman Gates, Russell Ausspurgen, Archie Wilson, Thomas Kemp, Anna Williams and Ann Webster.

The ways and means committee also served the Red Cross dinner held last Monday night in the Woman's club.

Drama Section Gives Skit at Woman's Club

Mrs. Earl Dottra presided at the regular Wednesday meeting of the Woman's club of Arcadia on Dec. 14 and welcomed the ministers of Arcadia and their wives as guests of the club. Mrs. Carl Stephens led the group in singing "Adeste Fideles" with Mrs. A. P. Stuhman at the piano.

Ministers and their wives introduced were: the Rev. and Mrs. Edward R. Howard of the Congregational church; Father and Mrs. Henry Lewis Ewan, Church of the Transfiguration; the Rev. and Mrs. Thatcher Jordon, Church of the Good Shepherd; the Rev. and Mrs. Edward Rein, American Lutheran church; the Rev. and Mrs. Leonard Gilmore, Arcadia Friends church, and the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. J. Davis Barnard, Arcadia Presbyterian church. The Rev. Mr. Jordan gave the benediction, the Rev. Mr. Rein said the invocation and Dr. Barnard brought the Christmas message.

Mrs. Alfred LaRay sang a group of folk songs by John Jacob Nyles, accompanied by Mrs. Thomas Kemp at the piano.

The dining room was beautifully decorated in the Christmas theme, each table held an individual arrangement and the head table held a winter scene of angels, pine cones, choir boys and Santa Claus.

The drama department sponsored the program and presented a skit called "Two Boxes." Members taking part were Mmes. Alice McAbery, Dorothea Gamroth, Toni Clement, Clara Slattery, Vera Clarkson, Louise Thoms, Marjorie Scull, Lillian Heiss, Grace Hatch, Alice Campbell, Florence Clark and Harriet Ashby.

Mrs. Byron K. Daniels, district chairman of drama and speech, was introduced and gave a short talk on the benefits derived from belonging to the drama department.

Holiday Fete Enjoyed by Art Section

Art department of the Arcadia Woman's club met in the solarium of the clubhouse on Dec. 14 at 10 a.m. for its regular meeting and Christmas party.

The first part of the day was taken up in making beautiful Christmas decorations, after which everyone assembled in the auditorium where Ann George and her committee served the delicious potluck dishes at tables beautifully decorated with holly, mistletoe and ornaments.

Rose Lane, chairman, presided over a short business meeting and presented everyone with a Christmas corsage. Louise Thoms led in singing "Jingle Bells," with Grace Hatch accompanying at the piano.

Those present were Mmes. Rose Lane, Louise Thoms, Harriet Leitz, Lucille Fields, Caroline Ganther, Mildred Godfrey, Marie Johnson, Iris Rice, Alice Campbell, Gudrun Kaurin, Ann George, Josephine Gates, Lillian Page, Ruth Law, Grace Hatch, Lucy Wyss, Jetta Overton, Clara Slattery, Ione Welckert and Margaret Chapman.

Film Shown To Club Section

The California history and landmarks department of the Arcadia Woman's club met at the home of Mrs. David Shrader on Monday, Jan. 31. The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Charles Ganther, chairman of the department. Plans were made for future trips to historical points of interest, such as the Southwest museum.

The program was presented by Edwin Ginter and consisted of a film called "The American Road." This interesting film recalled the horse and buggy era, with its narrow, dirt roads of 50 years ago. It depicted the progress made in our methods of transportation up to the present time of fast motor cars and excellent highways from coast to coast.

Tea was served at a beautifully appointed table, with a centerpiece of spring flowers. Mrs. Shrader was assisted by Mrs. Daniel Slattery and Mrs. H. H. Augsburg.

Those present were: Mmes. Frank

H. Smith, C. W. Dysart, R. H. Augsburg, W. H. Smith, David Shrader, Daniel Slattery, John Richardson, Charles Ganther, Mary Burbank, John Scull, William Weaver, Marcia Crellin, Lucy Wyss, Carmina Bonnet, Edwin Ginter, Archie Willson, Freeman Gates, John Vanderbur, Robert Lane, M. M. Trew, John Renshaw, Lewis Ashby, Harvey E. Moss and Lloyd Hatch.

Arcadia Woman's Club to Present Musical Satire

The satire with music being presented by the Women's Club of Arcadia, Nov. 23 and 24 in Holly Avenue school auditorium is being produced by a professional with a background of theater and motion pictures, Henry K. Dunn.

The following have been added to the long list already in rehearsal: Edward Barrow, Lawrence Kelly, Woody Martin, William Moore and Eugene Mayer. Robert W. Mayer has consented to get into the play and be the master of ceremonies.

"Ladies, Behave!" will contain every ingredient to make up a full evening's entertainment and for everyone's taste, from nostalgia to the most modern sophistication.

Everyone is called upon to perform, contrary to their personality. "These Two Girls from Paris," will do a song and dance routine. And a group of proper, well behaved ladies are in the "Ladies, Behave!" act with Clara Slattery as president of a board over which she has no control. The uncontrollables are Florence Clark, Virginia Barro, Florence Thoms, Raylene Winchell, Marguerite Olmstead, Edna Dettra, Lila Richardson, Grace Hatch, Florence Cooke, Iris Rice and Toni Clement. At the end of which the form of Madame Lucia Tremolozini played by Myrl Regnier. Her loyal accompanist is Virginia Stuhman.

For nostalgia there will be "Grandma's Birthday" with Lucy Wyss, Alice McAbery, Louise Thoms, Janet Schick, Virginia Stuhman, Florence Lummons, Marguerite Smith, Ellen Richards, Morgan Richards, Doyle Lindley, Ronald Bottema, Larry Kelly, William Moore, Woody Martin and Samuel Nock. Helen Cartwright is the pianist for this group.

"O Promise Me," an impressionistic piece, tries to capture the mood of a wedding with Bertha Nichols as a wedding crasher. The guests being Glory Kercheval, Toni Clement, Marjorie Scull, Virginia Barro, Florence Clark, Marguerite Olmstead, Ione Paradise, Elizabeth Chagnon, Louise Thoms, Florence Cooke, Florence Turner, Ricci Barro, Samuel Nock and Morgan Richards. Sally Manley and Ronald Bottema as soloists and Virginia Stuhman as the pianist.

For sophistication, "At Hattie Carnegie's," a satire on the fashion business in which we find two Arcadians, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Balser, as Mr. and Mrs. Trilling, at Madame Carnegie's. Myrl Regnier is Madame Carnegie. The models are Ione Paradise, Florence Turner, Trudy Mills, Genevieve Shrader, Marguerite Smith, Maxine Burchell, Raylene Winchell, Marian Bridgeman and Bett Marriott.

Those accustomed to hearing Marjorie LaRay sing her folk songs will be pleasantly surprised to hear her and see her as a Mary Martin and Ethel Merman and as a French torch singer.

Sally Manley will be heard as an exciting soloist.

Shirley Logsdon, 17, will sing just like a professional.

A surprise will be the Mayflower Sisters, a singing trio, Janet Schick, Sally Manly and Louise Thoms.

For tickets call Clara Slattery, DOuglas 7-6243. Raylene Winchell is in charge of costumes.

First Winners Announced for Card Tourney

Winners of the first round of the bridge and canasta tournament of the ways and means department of the Arcadia Woman's club were announced this week by Mrs. J. K. Weems, chairman in charge of the tournament. Prizes will go to the top couple in bridge and canasta, and will be presented at the second session to be played on Nov. 24.

The highest score for bridge was had by Mrs. N. E. Stadig and Mrs. Edith Murray who will play the runners-up, Mrs. David Slattery and Mrs. Charles Martin at the November session. For canasta, Mrs. Elmer Godfrey and Mrs. Mildred Patten had the highest score with Mrs. W. A. Smith and Mrs. Garth Greer coming in second. Pairings for the other players will be posted in the foyer of the clubhouse.

The first session was very successful with 164 registered players turning out. Players are asked to pay particular notice to the fact that the date of the next session is Nov. 24, the day before Thanksgiving. All those unable to play must arrange for their own substitute.

Arrangements have been made to make this Thanksgiving party an especially nice one—the prizes to be very desirable and useful. Everyone is urged to come out for this one.

Home-made cakes, cookies and pies will be sold.

WOMAN'S CLUB HOSTED BY VICE-PRESIDENT

Mrs. Daniel Slattery, first vice-president of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, entertained members of the board Tuesday morning at her home, 3035 Hodges avenue. She presided at the business meeting in the absence of the club president, Mrs. Earl Dettra, who is ill at her home.

Drama Chairman Hosts Section

Mrs. Bruce McAbery, new chairman of the drama department of the Arcadia Woman's club, entertained members, both old and new, at a kaffee klatsch at her home, Sept. 13, the second Monday of the month, which will be the regular meeting day for the department.

Mrs. Byron K. Daniels, chairman of district, gave many important ideas on drama and speech and on the development of good public speaking. She recommended "Footlights Across the Nation" to the group as interesting reading.

There were many new faces among the group, including Harriet Ashby, Florence Clark, Clara Slattery and Edna Dettra, club president.

WOMAN'S CLUB PLANS FIRST SOCIAL NIGHT

First social night of the season for the Woman's Club of Arcadia will be held Saturday night in the clubhouse. A potluck dinner will be served at 7 p.m., to be followed by cards and dancing. Mrs. Daniel Slattery is social chairman of the year, and Mrs. George Wheeler will be chairman for the evening.

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED BY WOMAN'S CLUB

Members of the Arcadia Woman's club elected officers for the 1954-55 year yesterday at the regular luncheon meeting presided over by Mrs. Bruce McAbery. Installation ceremonies will be held on June 2.

Those elected were Misses Earl Dettra, president; Mrs. Daniel Slattery, first vice-president; Mrs. Andrew Heilman, second vice-president; Mrs. Albert Weickert, recording secretary; Mrs. John C. Merrill, corresponding secretary; Mrs. John Scull, treasurer; Mrs. William Adams, senior trustee; Mrs. Verne H. Winchell Jr., junior trustee; Mrs. Charles Johnson, ways and means chairman; Mrs. Andrew F. Hacquebord, federation secretary.

Mrs. Hugh Sanborn was given a complimentary life membership.

The public is invited to the annual rummage sale to be held Saturday at the clubhouse, 712 North First avenue.

Local Clubwomen Attending CFWC District Conclave

Delegates from the Arcadia Woman's club are attending the convention of District Federation of Women's clubs now in session in Santa Maria. The Arcadians, who left Wednesday and arrived in time for the session that night, were Mrs. Bruce McAbery, president; Mrs. Daniel J. Slattery, Mrs. John Renshaw and Mrs. J. K. Weems.

Mrs. Weems also represents the district as special occasions chairman. Another delegate from the district is Mrs. C. G. Messenger, district amenities chairman, who drove to Santa Maria with Mrs. O. C. Michaels, president of the Monrovia Woman's club.

Mrs. Alfred LaRay and Mrs. Thomas B. Kemp leave today for the convention, and Mrs. LaRay will sing a program of folk songs at tomorrow's meeting. She will be accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Kemp. Mrs. George Cornelius, district president, after hearing Mrs. LaRay sing at the district meeting hosted in Arcadia, requested that she sing at the conclave.

Mrs. Eugene C. Nott of Arcadia, district radio and TV chairman and past president of the Junior membership of district, will introduce the speakers at today's session.

Mrs. Joseph C. Wenger, State Federation president, will be honored at tonight's banquet. Tomorrow Mrs. Cornelius will report on accomplishments of district clubs during the past two years.

Mrs. Mildred Younger, candidate for State Senator from Los Angeles county, was the first speaker Wednesday night.

Arcadia Woman's Club Installs New Officers In Impressive Rites

In a formal ceremony new officers of the Arcadia Woman's Club installed their officers at the June 2 installation.

Mrs. John Dettra heads the board as president. Serving with her will be Mrs. Daniel J. Slattery, first vice-president; Andrew Heilman, second vice-president; Albert Weickert, recording secretary; John Scull, treasurer; N. E. Stadig, C. Merrill, corresponding secretary; Charles Johnson, chairman, Charles Johnson, secretary and means chairman; Verne Winchell Jr., junior trustee; William Adams, senior trustee and Arthur Hoesquiers, federation secretary.

Mrs. Alan Young, junior past president of Los Angeles district, was installing officer. She used a candlestick of light for the lovely ceremony and each officer held a candle indicative of her office. Placed in a corsage which was fashioned like a candleholder, Mrs. L. R. Short was in charge of the installation arrangements.

The club was a beautiful setting for the happy day with beautiful floral arrangements of roses, gladioli and garden flowers placed throughout the clubhouse. The table was beautifully appointed and was centered with an arrangement of Charlotte Armstrong rosebuds. These were arranged by Mrs. Ray Allen Young and the roses came from the Young rose garden. Mrs. Stadig, Mrs. M. R. Clark and Mrs. Katherine Brown decorated.

Mrs. Charles Ganther was in charge of decorations and of the tea. Assisting here were Mmes. Robert Paradise, V. John Barry, Charles

A Father's Day barbecue will be sponsored Sunday, June 20, by the San Gabriel Valley-Pasadena chapter of Hadassah at the patio and pool of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ackerman.

Proceeds will be used to help needy children in Israel.

Complete chicken dinner is being served at $3 per person. Reservations are being taken by Mrs. Raymond Walter, SYcamore 2-8724, or Mrs. Herbert Walter, DOuglas 7-7070.

Special entertainment is being furnished. Dancing and cards will follow the dinner.

Schaeffer, John P. Ross, Raymond Kennett, Ernest Leeper, Ray Allen Young, Russell H. Augspurger and Thomas McDowell.

Mrs. Bruce McAbery presided at a short business meeting.

The treasurer's report was read by Mrs. Sculland and the historian's report was given by Mrs. Hacquebord. Mmes. Stadig, McAbery and L. A. Rice gave reports on state and district conventions.

Mrs. McAbery presided at a short and impressive memorial service for departed members.

The music department won the perpetual trophy of the club for the department that had contributed the most during the year. The chorus of the department sang three numbers under the direction of Mrs. Thatcher Jordan.

They were "Jack and Jill," arranged like Handel choral; "The Night Has a Thousand Eyes," with Mrs. LeRoy Anderson playing accompaniment on her violin, and "I Leave a Song With You," with Mrs. Roy Regnier singing the obbligato.

Mrs. Thatcher Jordan Speaks to Evening Group at Opening Meeting

Mrs. Richard Barro, chairman of the evening department of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, presided at the first official meeting of the year last Monday at 8 p.m. in the clubhouse. Mrs. Daniel Slattery, first vice-president of the Arcadia Woman's club, was welcomed by the speaker for the evening was Mrs. Thatcher Jordan, who was introduced by the program chairman, Mrs. Thomas Kemp.

"Life in a Pressure Cooker" was Mrs. Jordan's topic and it was an appropriate one for the group, whose members carry on club, civic, philanthropy and social activities in addition to rearing a family and managing a home.

Mrs. Jordan stated that everyone must have an exhaust valve of some type as a means of letting off steam. Rather than the commonly heard phrase "blow your top," four better ways to relieve pressures from everyday life were suggested by Mrs. Jordan. First was a sense of humor which enables you to laugh at yourself and with others. Second was the development of time-saving techniques. Third was participation in worthwhile things for the good that can be accomplished, not for what one can get out of it. Mrs. Jordan pointed to the quotation "The only happiness you keep is the one you give away."

And fourth was the most important exhaust valve of all—forgiveness. Happiness has never been associated with ill-will and hate. A good recipe for happiness, she said, was to love rather than to be concerned about being loved.

The evening department has now become one of the largest sections in the Woman's club even though it has been organized only since February, 1950, and it is anticipated that there will be over 50 paid members by the next meeting.

Mrs. Barro, with the aid of her board, has had a most successful summer season. The evening department's ice cream social netted $450 and this will go toward the philanthropy program of Christmas gifts for the half-orphans under county welfare jurisdiction. Aside from ways and means and philanthropy projects, the group has had several summer social activities. Outstanding parties were the annual luau and a swimming and barbecue party.

At this first meeting of the year, Mrs. Barro called for a discussion of the next social event which will be a Halloween dinner party to be held at the clubhouse Saturday night. Mrs. Richard Marsh and her committee are in charge of the party which involves some very secret plans. "Hard-times" costumes will be in order and there will be a fine for those failing to comply. The evening department, under the guidance of Mrs. Barro and her capable board, hopes to see this year completed successfully with both fun and service as its objective.

Hostesses for the evening were Mmes. A. W. Anger, Kelvin Turner and Jack Bosworth. Delicious refreshments were served in the solarium following the meeting. Other members who attended were Mmes. Leonard Cartwright, Alfred LaRay, A. T. Stuhman, Robert Titgemeyer, Earl Towsley, Jack Wagner, Verne Winchell, Carl Heglund, Dent DeLong, Thomas Kemp, Alan Langlois, Sidney Koppel, Galen Stouder, C. O. Prather, Doyle Lindley, C. R. Niederhaus, Dene Christie, William Messick, Lester Lee, Richard Marsh and C. W. Johnson.

Arcadia Club Installation Date Is Set

ARCADIA — Mrs. Earl Dettra will be inducted as 1954-55 president of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, with others of her official staff, at the annual installation ceremonies set for June 2 in the clubhouse.

Her official assistants for the ensuing year are: Mmes. Daniel Slattery, first vice president; Andrew Heilman, second vice president; Albert Weickert, recording secretary; John C. Merrill, corresponding secretary; John Scull, treasurer; William Adams, senior trustee; Verne H. Winchell Jr., junior trustee; Charles Johnson, ways and means chairman, and Andrew F. Hacquebord, federation secretary.

Election took place at this week's club meeting presided over by Mrs. Bruce McAbery, president. At that time, Mrs. Hugh Sanborn, who has been a member for more than 30 years, was presented a life membership in recognition of her services to the organization.

Those present were Mmes. C. Smith, Bertha Nichols, Albert Clement, Gene Clarkson, Charles Ganther, John Scull, Daniel Slattery, Lewis Ashby, Lloyd Hatch, Earl Dettra, Roy Regnier, M. R. Clark, Harvey Thombs and E. J. Fren-tress.

Arcadia Woman's Club Presents Entertaining Musical Satire

"Ladies, Behave," an amusing satire with music, given Nov. 29 and 30 by the Woman's Club of Arcadia, provided delightful entertainment. Written and directed by Henry K. Dunn, its cast of club members, with a few husbands and children, gave an almost professional performance. The production certainly emphasized the fact that many of the club women have a "flair for acting," as well as the outstanding musical talent that the club can boast of.

Mayor Robert Dove acted as the general master of ceremonies, and introduced the acts.

In the opening number, "Charlotta's Birthday," Ronald Bottema and Alice McAbery were soloists, with Helen Cartwright as pianist. Others in the delightful scene were Lucy Weiss, Louise Thombs, Virginia Stuhman, Janet Schick, Marguerite Smith, Florence Timmons, Shirley Logsdon, Ellen Richards, Samuel Nock, Doyle Lindley, Lawrence Kelly, Morgan Richards, and William Moore.

The Sunshine Girls, Janet Schick, Sally Manley and Louise Thombs, sang several numbers with Virginia Stuhman at the piano. Marjorie LeRay also sang and Mary Kemp accompanied her.

In the scene "Ladies, Behave," Meryl Regnier as Madame Lucia Tremolozzi "rendered an aria" with Mrs. Stuhman doing a noble job as her accompanist. The scene was a clever satire on clubwomen and taking part were Clara Slatery, Florence Clark, Edna Dettra, Florence Timmons, Virginia Barro, Raylene Winchell, Iris Rice, Florence Cocke, Ione Weickert, Marguerite Olmstead, Grace Hatch, Lila Richardson and Toni Clement.

One of the highlights of the production was the performance of those curvaceous girls from Paris "Kentucky," Olive Stadig and Alice McAbery, who appropriately costumed entertained with their dancing and songs.

"O Promise Me" had both beauty and comedy and taking part were Lila Richardson, Toni Clement, Glory Kercheval, Marjorie Scull, Virginia Barro, Florence Clark, Marguerite Olmstead, Ione Paradise, Elizabeth Chagnon, Louise Thombs, Florence Cocke, Florence Turner, Samuel Nock, Rickie Barro and Morgan Richards. Soloists were Sally Manley and Ronald Bottema with Mrs. Stuhman at the piano.

The Marriotts, a dance team, did the tango, and Shirley Logsdon sang.

The play closed at Madam Hattie Carnegie's salon in New York where Mr. and Mrs. Charles Trilling of Arcadia had come to buy clothes for Mrs. Trilling. Jesse and Margaret Balser gave an amusing performance as the Trillings, and Meryl Regnier as Madam Carnegie tried to interest the Trillings in the beautiful gowns that the lovely models were displaying. However, Mr. Trilling's attention seemed to be centered on the models which kept Mrs. Trilling with an eye on him.

Others in the scene were Doyle Lindley as Robert Rabelaise, the designer, and Toni Clement as a picturesque Russian countess with an accent. Models were Ione Paradise, Trudy Mills, Genevieve Shrader, Maxine Buchell, Marguerite Smith, Florence Turner, Marion Bridgeman and Raylene Winchell. Mrs. Cartwright played background music.

The play was presented as a means of raising money for the increased philanthropy budget adopted this year by the president Mrs. Earl Dettra, and her board.

Woman's Club Opens Year At Luncheon

Woman's Club of Arcadia opened the season at a luncheon meeting on Oct. 6, in a beautifully appointed clubhouse, and with a completely redecorated foyer. Mrs. Daniel Slatery, first vice-president, welcomed members and guests in the absence of the president, Mrs. Earl Dettra, who is ill.

Mrs. Herman Kambeltz was in charge of the table decorations which featured succulents on a background of yellow paper. A large arrangement of yellow bronze dahlias was on the piano and an unusual arrangement of dried flowers was in the foyer. Assisting Mrs. Kambeltz were Mmes. Karl Stephens, Malcolm Cocke, Kirk Beal and William Adams. Mrs. Adams also had charge of redecorating the foyer during the summer.

Mrs. Kambeltz, American citizenship chairman, led the pledge of allegiance with Mrs. Harvey Thombs directing the group in the singing of "America." Mrs. Edward A. Rein, invocation chairman, led the reading of the collect for Federated clubwomen.

All department leaders announced the coming meetings and extended an invitation to club members to attend their department meetings.

Mrs. Alan Langlois, membership chairman, presented the new members: Mmes. Carl F. Brelow, William A. Abernathy, James P. Frazer, Kenneth J. Law, Robert Jones, Jack E. Moore, John R. Severin, Franklin H. Shepherd, Florence Macy Parker and Helen Taylor.

The auditorium was filled for the afternoon program which was presented by Jeanne Hays, dancer, and Mary Elizabeth Paine, pianist. Mrs. N. E. Stadig, program chairman, introduced the talented young artists. Miss Hays was an extremely well trained dancer showing a complete mastery of technique and an intriguing personality. Miss Payne played with flawless technique, and the two presented a wonderfully balanced program.

Garden Department Installs Officers in Garden Ceremony

Mrs. E. J. Verhoef, chairman of the garden department of the Arcadia Woman's club, hosted the department recently for its annual installation of officers, which was preceded by a potluck served in the patio. Mrs. Daniel J. Slattery, junior past president, installed the officers using an inspiring candlelight theme. As each officer told the important part that light plays in each life, and in closing she read an appropriate article.

Those taking office were Mrs. Verhoef, who will head the group again as chairman; Mrs. Karl Stephens, vice-chairman and programs; Mrs. George Benton, recording secretary; Mrs. Bliss Tupper, secretary, and Edward Kaurin, treasurer.

Department members presented Mrs. Verhoef with a beautiful plant in appreciation of her leadership, and Ford A. Stewart, orchid grower of Temple City, gave the department an orchid plant. This was won by Mrs. Slattery who in turn gave it to Mrs. Verhoef.

Gift
Mrs. Verhoef gave each of her officers a cup and saucer, and at a short business meeting plans were made to hold the meetings next year at 11 a.m. She also gave Mrs. C. F. Noack a plant as her prize for knowing all the state flowers in the recent contest staged by the department. Mrs. Williams Adams was also given a plant for second prize.

Mrs. Stevens presented Mrs. Verhoef with an album containing the events of the past year and all enjoyed reviewing the activities of the year.

Those present were Meses. Rose Lane, Russell Lucas, Palmer Schlegel, Freeman E. Gates, Wallace Smith, John P. Ross, John Richardson, John Harrison, Albert Weickert, Philip Sherk, Daniel Slattery, Herman A. Kambietz, N. E. Stadig, William Adams, Olive B. Hall, C. F. Noack, Edward Kaurin and Karl Stephens.

Mrs. Slattery Fetes Board

Mrs. Daniel J. Slattery, outgoing president of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, served luncheon to members of her board at the final board meeting of the year, which was held last week at her home.

She presented each board member with a gift and thanked her for her services during the year, the board in turn gave Mrs. Slattery a silver vegetable dish.

Those present were Meses. Archie Wilson, L. A. Rice, William Adams, Ahlert Sturman, E. J. Fuerst, Leonard Ross, Verne Winchell, John Richardson, Harvey Thombs, N. E. Stadig and Joe Watson.

Arcadia Woman's Club Honors Ministers at Christmas Luncheon

Mrs. Daniel Slattery, president of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, welcomed friends and members at the annual Christmas luncheon meeting last Wednesday. Ministers of Arcadia and their wives were special guests. At the opening of the day the pledge of allegiance was given and all joined in singing "America." The Rev. Thatcher Jordan, pastor of the Church of the Good Shepherd, gave the invocation. Luncheon tables were beautifully decorated in individual center-barrel filled with gifts from members, made by the art department of the club.

Mrs. Slattery introduced the new member, Mrs. F. H. Clark, Rev. and Mrs. Henry Louis Ewan, the Rev. and Mrs. S. H. Hall, the Rev. and Mrs. Jordan, the Rev. and Mrs. William Dorsey, the Rev. and Mrs. Benuie Flint, the Rev. and Mrs. Leonard A. Gilmour, the Rev. and Mrs. Karl Meyers, and the Rev. and Mrs. Edwin Howard. The Rev. Mr. Dorsey brought a Christmas message to the group and the president extended greetings of the season to all.

The caretaker, Paul Ramirez, was presented with a Christmas gift from the members. A trio, composed of Mrs. Clark, Mrs. A. P. Stuhman, and Mrs. Brideman, Mrs. A. P. Stuhman, entered the foyer. Mrs. J. K. Weems introduced the stars, Lynn Shannon, Hendrik De Boer, young Dutch tenor, Dick Roberts, called the banjo king, and Matilde Barsha, pianist, who presented "The Romance of Stephen Foster."

Garden Section Installs at Weickert Home

The lovely home of Mrs. Albert L. Weickert, chairman of the art department of the Arcadia Woman's club, was the setting for the annual installation of officers and potluck that preceded it. Mrs. Weickert conducted a short business meeting at the close of the luncheon and plans were made for the year. Mrs. Elmer Godfrey presented Mrs. Weickert with a beautiful bag, and she in turn gave a gift to each of her officers, expressing her appreciation of their cooperation.

Mrs. Daniel Slattery, past president, installed officers using an artist's palette as the theme. She used a palette with bows of satin ribbon and as she installed each officer she gave her the color corresponding with her duties. Taking office were Mrs. Weickert, chairman; Mrs. Edward Verhoef, program chairman; Mrs. Charles Johnson, vice-chairman; Mrs. Lou Taylor, secretary, and Mrs. John Ross, treasurer. Mrs. Charles Ganther stood as proxy for Mrs. Taylor. Mrs. Harriet Lietz for Mrs. Ross and Mrs. Edward Kaurin for Mrs. Johnson, who were unable to be present.

Those present were Misses: Ione Weickert, Clara Slattery, Kudrin Kaurin, Josephine Gates, Lucille Fields, Lyda Bauerle, Elizabeth Verhoef, Rose Lane, Mildred Godfrey, Ann George, Harriet Lietz, Alice Campbell, Audrey Hubbs, Katherine Brown, Ruth Law, Teddy Harrison, Caroline Ganther.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Slattery, 3035 Hodges avenue, and their son, Dennis, will go to Glendale tonight for Christmas Eve celebration at the home of Mrs. Sara McDonald, where they will be joined by other members of the family. They will be at home to their friends on Christmas day, and it is traditional for them to have Christmas brunch with Mrs. Slattery's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Max Meier. Mrs. Evelyn Balantine, a visitor from Perry, Iowa, will also be present.

Dec. 7.

Woman's Club Plans Annual Holiday Lunch

Woman's Club of Arcadia will hold its traditional Christmas luncheon meeting Wednesday at 1:30 in the clubhouse which will be appropriately decorated for the occasion. At this annual event the ministers of Arcadia and their wives are honored guests.

Following the luncheon, scheduled for 11:30, a Christmas message will be delivered by the Rev. Willard C. Dorsey, pastor of the Arcadia Christian church. Mrs. Daniel Slattery, president, will welcome members and guests.

Following the intermission, a musical program, "The Romance of Stephen Foster," will feature the life and music of the great American composer. Presenting the program will be the radio and television artist, Lynne Shannin, narrator; Hendrik de Boer, concert and opera tenor; the recording artist, Dick Roberts, "The Banjo King," and Matilde Barsha, pianist.

Reservations are required by 5 p.m. today. Call Mrs. Gene Clarkson, DOuglas 7-200.

Mrs. Joseph Parnham Heads Club Section for Second Year; Report Given on Winning of State Award

Combining fun and food with the more serious business of installation of officers and the discussion of future policies, the International Affairs section of the Arcadia Woman's club brought to a close a most rewarding year, when it met last Monday morning at the home of its chairman, Mrs. Joseph C. Parnham, 815 West Longden avenue.

Mrs. J. E. Ronstad, district chairman of international affairs for the greater Los Angeles area, installed the 1956-57 officers, following an interesting business meeting, held on the poolside terrace. Serving for the second year as chairman will be Mrs. Parnham and Mrs. Oscar M. Chagnon, as vice-chairman, will be in charge of programs, Mrs. A. R. Foy, secretary and treasurer, and Mrs. Wayne Jones (Tommie) as hospitality chairman complete the roster, with the press chairman to be chosen in the fall.

Mrs. Ronstad congratulated the section on winning the state award at the convention at Berkeley in May. Mrs. Daniel J. Slattery, who had accepted the award at that time, called attention to the present issue of California Clubwoman and assured of continued support in which the Arcadia club group received considerable praise for its outstanding work this past year.

Mrs. Slattery read in part from the article written by Mrs. Charles T. Butler, state chairman, international affairs. "Pacific Beach, Fowler, Sunland and Arcadia are names to conjure with in the record of International Affairs department for the year 1955-56. Because of a tight timing schedule the awards given them at the state convention could not be presented with even the briefest of outlines concerning the work which won them this recognition. Believing that their stories will prove an inspiration to us all, your state chairman gives the following details."

World Affairs

Of Arcadia, the article continues, "The Arcadia club's department offered the membership a far-ranging approach to world affairs through intensely interesting section meetings—Argentina through the eyes of a Catholic priest there throughout the Peron and church crisis; the Middle East dilemma presented by a member of one of the nationalities involved. Europe as of now by a club member and traveler. Women of the Orient by the state chairman, and two sessions on world trade."

"Throughout there was the study of the GFWC International Affairs booklet in order to correlate federation ideas and bibliography with what speakers offered. Study was lightened too by an international buffet supper (with and for husbands), a flower show entry featuring the national origins of each display as related in a federation outline.

"Another unique activity was chosen from the department booklet list 'Suggestions for Individual Responsibility'—that of individual members inviting a foreign-born member of their community to attend church with them.

Gift

Mrs. Francis B. Lull, retiring vice-chairman, presented Mrs. Parnham with a gift from the group, thanking her for her leadership and devotion to the section.

Mrs. Lawrence Kelley, who has accepted the post of chairman of international affairs for the Junior Women's club, was introduced and assured of continued support for the Juniors' many worthy projects. Also, recognized was the president-elect of the Senior club, Mrs. Archie L. Wilson, and a prospective member, Mrs. Gordon Simpson, who came as the guest of Mrs. D. Foy.

A delicious potluck luncheon was served in the patio and was followed by swimming.

Republican Women's Club To Install Officers at First Meeting of Year

Installation of officers will be the chief order of business when the Arcadia Republican Women's club begins its new club year Jan. 19 with a 12 o'clock luncheon meeting at Eaton's Santa Anita restaurant. Mrs. D. J. Slattery, president of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, will be the installing officer.

During the informal ceremony, the following newly elected officers will be installed: Mrs. William I. Bauman, president; Mrs. M. G. Davis, first vice-president; Mrs. C. O. Porter, second vice-president; Mrs. J. Clayton Schaefer, third vice-president; Mrs. Jack Finch, recording secretary; Mrs. Robert G. Beasley, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Roger Stoll, treasurer.

Preceding the business meeting and installation, Assemblyman Joseph C. Shell of the 58th district will speak on the possibility of a state tax reduction during the legislative session which opens in Sacramento next March. Mrs. M. G. Davis, program chairman, will introduce the speaker. He has served on revenue and taxation as well as ways and means committees in the legislature, and will take part in the budget session which will mark its opening, she advises.

Shell is a graduate of the University of Southern California, where he was active in campus organizations and was captain of the late Howard Jones' final great football team in 1939-40, according to Mrs. Davis. He holds the rank of lieutenant in the Naval Reserve, after having served three years in the Naval Air Corps. After his naval service he was in business for himself in the field of production until his election to the state legislature.

Committees
Other legislative committees on which he has served are education, government organization, manufacturing, oil and mining industry.

Assisting Mrs. Davis in arrangements for the afternoon are Mrs. N. E. Stadig, in charge of decorations; Mrs. J. P. Frazer, hospitality, and Mrs. D. B. Duncan, reservations.

Members are asked to contact Mrs. Duncan, Douglas 7-3415, Mrs. D. R. Yoder, Custer 5-3249, or Mrs. F. H. Van Leer, Douglas 3-3496, for necessary reservations.

Republican Club To Install at Luncheon Meet

Assemblyman Joseph C. Shell of the 58th district will be guest speaker at the luncheon meeting of the Arcadia Republican Women's club Thursday at 12 noon at Eaton's Santa Anita restaurant.

Mr. Shell has served on revenue and taxation as well as ways and means committees in the legislature, and will take part in the budget session which will mark its opening. He will discuss the possibility of a state tax reduction during the legislative session which opens in Sacramento next month.

Another highlight of the luncheon will be the installation of officers with Mrs. William I. Bauman to lead the club for the second year. Mrs. Daniel J. Slattery, president of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, will be installing officer.

Members are asked to contact Mrs. D. B. Duncan, Douglas 7-3415, Mrs. D. R. Yoder, ELgin 5-3249, or Mrs. F. H. Van Leer, Douglas 6-3496.

SEEKING HELP—As numerous other volunteers are doing this week and next, Mrs. Horvey Thombs, left, calls on Mrs. Daniel Slattery of Arcadia to give her life-saving facts about cancer and to ask her to give generously to the current Crusade on Cancer. Mrs. Slattery also has volunteered to help in the campaign drive.

Interest Grows in Fashion Revue To Be Held in Garden of Chandler Estate Here

One of the most glamorous and timely events on the local scene during the month of August will be the Fall Fashion revue and musicale tea to be presented on the afternoon of Wednesday, the 24th, by the Arcadia Woman's club. The affair will be staged in the delightful setting of the Norman Chandler gardens, on Singing Wood drive in Santa Anita Oaks.

Dual purpose of the occasion, sponsored by the club's ways and means department, is to establish a scholarship for an Arcadia High School student, while offering an exciting array of the newest fall fashions. Sportswear, afternoon dresses, suits, cocktail and dinner dresses will be shown by Cheron's of San Marino, representing such famous designers as Don Loper, Peggy Hunt, De Michael and Martha Crawford, as well as hats by Ruby Ross.

Club members who will act as models in the fashion parade are Mmes. Verne H. Winchell and daughter, Thomas Kemp, Albert J. Clement, Daniel Slattery, J. K. Weems, N. E. Stadig, Freeman E. Gates, Jesse Stewart, Richard Nickells, and Miss Audrey Short.

Door prizes are being planned, as well as souvenir gifts for all guests.

Appropriate background and interlude music will be by courtesy of the Woman's club music department, featuring Mrs. Leonard Cartwright and Mrs. Alfred LaRay, with specialty numbers at the organ by Ivan Baker. Inviting refreshments will be through the courtesy of El Rancho market.

Mrs. Harvey Thombs, ways and means chairman of the club, has extended an invitation to the public to attend, and anticipating a record turnout, suggests reservations be made promptly by calling her at DOuglas 7-9233 or Mrs. Archie Slover, DOuglas 7-7257.

ARCADIA WOMAN'S CLUB MAKES FINAL PLANS FOR FASHION SHOW-MUSICALE TEA

Mrs. Harvey Thombs, ways and means chairman of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, has extended an invitation to the public to attend the fashion show and musicale tea to be presented Aug. 24 at 1:30 p.m. at the Norman Chandler estate in Santa Anita Oaks. Mrs. Thombs and her committee are making elaborate plans to make this affair one of the most outstanding events of the club.

Proceeds will be used to provide a scholarship for a student at Arcadia High school.

Cheron's of San Marino will present a dazzling array of fashions featuring sportswear, afternoon dresses, suits, cocktail and dinner dresses by famous designers such as Don Loper, Peggy Hunt, De Michel and Martha Crawford. Hats will be by courtesy of Ruby Ross.

The music department of the club is arranging a delightful musical interlude. Mrs. Leonard Cartwright will provide piano music during the promenade of the mannequins, Mrs. Alfred LaRay, well known for her singing of spirituals, will give a group of numbers and Ivan Baker will give specialty numbers at the organ. Mel Pratt of the Arcadia Music Mart will provide the organ.

Refreshments will be served through the courtesy of the El Rancho market and will include sandwiches, cake, cookies, coffee, iced tea, candy and nuts.

Mrs. Thombs has thanked Mrs. N. E. Stadig and Mrs. Daniel Slattery, club president, and members of her committee, for their help with the fashion show.

For reservations call Mrs. Thombs at DOuglas 7-9233.

Mrs. Ganther Hosts Tea for Club Department

Mrs. Charles Ganther was hostess at her home, 2945 South Sixth avenue on April 27 at a tea sponsored by the history and landmark department of the Woman's Club of Arcadia.

Mrs. Daniel Slattery and Mrs. M. M. Trew presided at attractively appointed tea tables which were centered with an arrangement of roses. Mrs. David Schrader and Mrs. Edwin Gonter also assisted the hostess.

Miss Bessie Cope, president of the Audubon society and Mrs. N. Dunn, vice-president of the society, gave an interesting program. Miss Pope showed colored slides illustrating bird life as Mrs. Dunn described the appearance and habits of the birds. The pictures had been taken by Mrs. Mary Hood, a past president of the Audubon society and who is now in charge of public relations.

Those present were Mmes. Herbert E. White, Floyd Kingsley, Edwin Gonter, Frances B. Lull, John Scull, Harvey Moss, Eugenia Griffin, David Schrader, William Weaver, Freeman Gates, Frances Smith, Wallace Smith, John Vanderbur, John Renshaw, M. M. Trew, Lucy Wyss, Clyde Dysart, John Richardson, Marsha Crellin, Lewis Ashby, Daniel Slattery and Russell Augspurger.
